GRADY BONDS RECEIVE BIG VOTE BUT LOSE

Detective William J. Burns May Be Placed Under Bond As Witness for Grand Jury

"It Looked Like It" Is All Solicitor General Hugh M. Dorsey Would Say, However, About This Report.

JURY PROBE TO CENTER AROUND ALLEGED EFFORT TO BRIBE REV. RAGSDALE

Solicitor General Rests His Case, and Defense Begins Introduction of Rebuttal Evidence—Hearing to Be Resumed Today.

There were strong indications yesterday that Detective William J. Burns will be detained under heavy bond as a material witness before the grand jury in its investigation into bribery charges when he returns to Atlanta from Oklahoma City, where he is now testifying before a government land case.

His lieutenant, Dan S. Lehon, superintendent of the southern division of the Burns service, was ordered held by Judge Hill yesterday and was put under bond of $1,000. No other arrests, however, were ordered at the time. Lehon's bond was made at once.

Solicitor Dorsey was asked by a reporter for The Constitution Tuesday afternoon if any further arrests had been proposed. He stated that this was not likely until the return of Burns, when action would, in all probability, be taken against the noted sleuth to force him to appear before the grand jury.

Just Looked Like It.

Dorsey would not say affirmatively whether or not Burns would be detained. He said that "it looked like it."

The state seems determined to press a vigorous and exhaustive investigation into the bribery and coercion charges that have been made by witnesses for the state in the new trial motion for Frank. The jury probe will center around the Rev. C. B. Ragsdale incident, in which the minister makes a confession to the effect that he was bribed to frame the sensational "Conley confession" affidavit, which he later repudiated.

Dorsey stated Tuesday afternoon that he did not know definitely when he would be ready to start prosecutions, as he and his staff were so busily engaged in fighting the motion for a new trial for Frank.

Lehon was notified Tuesday morning that he would be forced to put up bond for appearance before the jury. He went at once with Milton Klein to the court and put up the required amount of $1,000. The order against him was issued early in the morning.

Solicitor Rests Case.

Solicitor Dorsey "rested his case" shortly after noon Tuesday, and the defense began submitting its rebuttal testimony. Numerous affidavits were introduced to show the genuineness of disputed affidavits and evidence that was attacked by the state in its counter showing.

Denial was made of the charges of bribery and coercion. Detective C. W. Burke, the defense investigator, who has been the target for the bulk of accusations by witnesses presented by Dorsey, denied in a sheaf of affidavits that required an hour to read charges made against him.

Jimmie Wrenn, who was employed by Burke to assist in gathering newly-discovered evidence, also made denials in numerous affidavits of his own making. Rabbi Marx, in an affidavit, defends himself, and Mrs. Lucile Frank, wife of the convicted man, against statements made in an affidavit by Mary Rich.

The first proceeding Tuesday was the examination of Miss Nellie Wood, the young girl witness accused by L. P. Eubanks when Eubanks went upon the stand Monday morning. She had asked Solicitor Dorsey to let her speak in her own defense, and the request was granted by Judge Hill.

She declared that she had been engaged to be married, and that Eubanks' scandalous story had practically ruined her. She denied heatedly that she had ever been arrested, and said that Eubanks' assertion that she had "run up and down Decatur" street was an abominable lie, and a detestable attempt to smirch her character.

After a cross-examination by Attorney Rosser, the girl was brought down from the stand. During the cross-fire her defiance frequently manifested itself in sharp retorts to her interrogator.

Had Many Jobs.

She stated that she had been a milliner, a telephone operator, a worker in the pencil factory and in other lines. She was asked what she had worked at during a certain period of her career. She lowered her head momentarily, then answered:

"Nothing dishonorable!"

"Well, but what?"

"I worked in a cotton factory!"

She was asked about other work.

"I never worked for you," she retorted. "I never took what Burke offered me!"

An affidavit was read by Solicitor Dorsey during the morning which had been made by Annie Maud Carter the day previous to the affiavit she made for the defense. She stated in it that she had frequently visited Conley's cell, and had been asked by Mr. Gilleland, a turnkey in the jail, to see if she could not ascertain whether or not Conley was a pervert.

Gilleland told her, she swore, that there was money in it for her if she found that Conley was abnormal. She told a sensational story of being offered money to poison Conley by a "Jew whose name she didn't know." This man, she stated, gave her a small

MEDIATORS TO HOLD MEXIC CONFERENCE AT NIAGARA FALLS

A. B. C. Envoys Who Have Undertaken to Prevent War Will Try to Solve Problem on Canadian Side.

DOOR IS STILL OPEN FOR CHIEF CARRANZA

Envoys Hope Rebel Leader Will Agree to Armistice. Meanwhile United States Intends to Hold Vera Cruz.

Washington, May 5.—The three South American envoys who have undertaken, by diplomacy, to settle Mexico's civil strife as well as her national difficulties, announced tonight that the first formal conference with the different parties interested in the mediation would be held at Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada, May, 18.

Secretary Bryan made the announcement for the three diplomats in a brief statement which read as follows:

"The mediators have notified the different parties that Niagara Falls, Canada, has been selected as the place where the mediators will confer with representatives of the different parties interested in the mediation and that the eighteenth of May has been fixed as the date for the conference to begin."

The language of the declaration attracted attention for although the envoys had in a note earlier said they would withdraw their invitation for a Carranza representative unless an armistice between the constitutionalists and the Huerta forces were arranged, no specific parties to the negotiations were named in the state department announcement.

CARRANZA URGED TO SEND AGENT.

It later was learned authoritatively that the reason for this was due to the fact that a further effort was being made to induce General Carranza to send a representative. It was understood that the mediators had further explained their position to General Carranza and still were hopeful that he might be represented at the negotiations without seeking to limit his agent to discussion of any particular subjects.

The American government has not chosen its representatives. President Wilson and Secretaries Bryan and Lane discussed many names today. They are seeking to get men of training in diplomatic affairs and inasmuch as it will take several days for the Huerta envoys to reach here, some of the intervening time will be taken by the president in considering men for the mission.

As yet, there has been no formal basis of negotiation, neither the United States nor Huerta having set forth their demands. It was learned today from a high administration official that in all likelihood the United States would not confine itself now to a mere settlement of the incidents at Tampico, but would aim to bring about a solution of the whole Mexican problem so that it could recognize a constitutionally established government which would be able to restore tranquilit in the southern republic.

AMERICAN FORCES STAY IN VERA CRUZ.

The disposition of General Carranza to eliminate himself from the mediation proceedings, if it should include a discussion of Mexico's internal problems, has not met with the favor of administration officals, but they do not think this decision is final.

It is virtually certain that withdrawal of Aemrican forces from Vera Cruz will not be ordered until some definite settlement of the whole Mexican problem is in sight.

The death of two of the Americans wounded at Vera Cruz, bringing the mortality list up to nineteen, the announcement that the president and Secretaries Garrison and Daniels would go to Brooklyn to attend memorial services for the seventeen dead, being brought back on the Montana, and orders to the hospital ship Solace to bring its wounded back to New York and Boston so that the sick may be in a cooler climate, were the chief developments during the day.

The war department continued plans for possible emergencies while the state department was arranging for refugee Americans who are leaving Mexico by the hundreds.

Niagara Falls, Ontario, was finally selected as a place to hold the mediation conferences because it is neutral territory, yet in close proximity to the United States. The fact that Niagara Falls is on the extreme border of Canada, and is known more as a scenic resort than as a political center, will remove, in the opinion of many officials here, any impression that the negotiations are to take place on their territory for diplomatic reasons.

Colonel Roosevelt and Party Reach Para and the Colonel Begins to Tell of His Exploits in the Wilds.

MADNESS AND DEATH MARKED THE JOURNEY

Sixty Days in Canoes and Dangerous Rapids Shot. Kermit Roosevelt Narrowly Escaped Death in the Rapids.

Para, Brazil, May 5.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, who, with his son, Kermit, arrived here today on the steamer Dunstan from Manaos, was greeted on board by a representative of the governor of the state of Para, municipal authorities and prominent persons.

Thanking the deputation for their reception, Colonel Roosevelt referred to the great progress made by Brazil and praised highly the work of the Brazilian commission under Colonel Rondon, which made the exploring trip with him.

Colonel Roosevelt and his companions were so fatigued that they decided not to go ashore until tomorrow, when they will tour the city and attend a luncheon given in their honor by the governor. On Thursday the party will leave for New York by way of Barbados.

Roosevelt Tells of Trip.

Colonel Roosevelt, in an interview with the Associated Press, gave many interesting details of his exploring trip through the wilds of Brazil. He said:

"The expedition has proved a signal success. It was undertaken originally for the American Museum of Natural History.

"During our trip George K. Cherry and Leo C. Miller, the naturalists, collected more than 2,100 birds and mammals, reptiles and bachtricians and fish, chiefly from regions not hitherto traversed by any collector, and many representing species hitherto unknown to science.

"The most important part of our trip was geographical. In the exploration of an unknown river, we have put on the map a river nearly 1,000 miles long, the existence of which is not hinted at on published maps. The upper part of its course was utterly unknown to anybody except the wild Indians along its banks, while the lower part was known to a few rubber men only.

"The river takes its rise in the high uplands of the western part of the state of Mattogrosso, just north of the thirteenth parallel of south latitude and between longitude 59 and 60 west of Greenwich.

"We embarked in latitude twelve degrees 25 minutes. The river ran with many doublings and twistings, almost due north into the river Madeira, where its entrance was at about five degrees 30 minutes south latitude.

60 Days in Canoes.

"We were sixty days in canoes. In latitude seven degrees south, we passed the last rapids and reached the steamer when we were but thirty-six hours from Manaos.

"In latitude ten degrees 58 minutes south, we struck the mouth of a big affluent, flowing from the right and latitude nine degrees 49 minutes south, we came to the mouth of another big affluent, flowing from the left.

"The Duvida river, in point of volume, is like the Rhone, the Elbe, or the Hudson, but is too much broken up by rapids to be navigable, except in the lower parts. In about seven degrees 30 minutes south latitude, it joins another river, practically the same size flowing from the right.

"From about 11 degrees 48 minutes to ten degrees 48 minutes south latitude the course of the Duvida is almost an unbroken series of rapids, there being no clear day's run without rapids. This was the hard part of our journey.

One Man Went Mad.

"Two sets of rapids were at the bottom of canyons where the river clove its way through mountain chains.

"Of the seven canoes with which we started, five were lost in the rapids. One of our men was drowned and two others, including Kermit, narrowly escaped death by drowning.

"Under the strain one man went mad. He finally murdered one of his comrades and fled into the wilderness.

"We saw no Indians, but twice heard them. While Colonel Rondon, the chief of the Brazilian mission, was out alone hunting, his dog was killed by arrows. The dog's death probably saved Colonel Roudon's life.

"I had a severe bout of fever and while working around a canoe in the rapids bruised my leg which developed into a bad abscess, but I am now practically all right."

TWO WOUNDED SAILORS ARE DEAD AT VERA CRUZ

Washington, May 5.—Two of the sailors wounded at the occupation of Vera Cruz died today. They were Harry Pulliam, fireman, and Clarence R. Hirchberger, seaman, both of the battleship Utah.

The information of the deaths at Vera Cruz was received in a dispatch from Admiral Badger. Pulliam died as a result of a gunshot wound, which had caused paralysis in the lower half of his body. The nature of the wound indicated that he had been fired upon from above.

Hirschberger's home was in Waverly, N. Y. He was 22 years old and enlisted January 21, 1911.

Pulliam lived in Pulaski, Va. He was 32 years old and enlisted February 2, 1911.

RESCUED SAILORS EXPLAIN MYSTERY OF BLAZING SHIP

Liner Franconia Picks Up 13 Men in Open Boat Who Tell of the Burning of the Freighter Columbian.

Boston, May 5.—The mystery surrounding the identity of the steamer on fire in the westbound trans-Atlantic steamer lane, south of Sable island, for forty-eight hours, was solved tonight when wireless messages from the Cunard liner Franconia told of the burning of the freighter Columbian, and the rescue of thirteen of her crew from a small boat. The death of Chief Steward Matthews, whose body the survivors had in charge, and the disappearance of a second boat, in which were nineteen men, including the first and second officers, also were reported.

Whether the number of missing was represented by those said to be in the second boat was uncertain tonight. Estimates by officials of the Leyland and Phoenix lines placed the number of the crew at between forty-five and fifty. The messages from the Franconia told of only thirty-three men, represented by the occupants of the two boats. It was thought possible that there was a third boat, commanded by Captain McDonald, of the Columbian.

Survivors Were Exhausted.

The survivors were so exhausted by their experience that they could tell little of what had happened, and steamship officials expressed the opinion that the omission in the wireless messages of mention of the captain might be laid to this fact.

The Franconia searched until nightfall for the second boat but without result. Then Captain Miller, of the Cunarder, sent word ashore that he had given up the search and would proceed for Boston with the survivors and his 1,733 passengers. He said he expected to arrive at Boston lightship at midnight Wednesday.

Before turning for his destination, Captain Miller had notffied the steamers Manhattan and Haverford, both eastbound, of the missing boat, and they sent word that they had changed their courses and were heading toward the burning steamer.

The Columbian was owned by the Leyland Line, but was chartered to the Phoenix Line for a voyage from Antwerp to New York. She carried no passengers.

The latest word of her came today from the North German Lloyd liner Seydlitz, which had stood by for twenty-four hours, saying that the vessel was aflame throughout and that the funnel and foremast had gone overboard.

Story of the Rescue.

On Board the Steamer Franconia, via Sable Island, N. S., May 5.—Thirteen survivors of the British steamer Columbian, bound from Antwerp for New York, which caught fire at sea Sunday night, were picked up today by the Cunard Franconia, bound from Liverpool for Boston. In the boat with the survivors was the body of the chief steward, Matthews.

Another boat, containing the chief and second officer and seventeen men,

ROCKEFELLER MONEY SPURNED BY SENATE

Cash of Oil Magnate Not to Be Used in Connection With Appropriations.

Washington, May 5.—Without enough opposing votes to secure a roll call, the senate today put into the agricultural appropriation bill a provision that none of the funds provided for farm demonstration and cotton boll weevil work should be used in connection with contributions by the general education board or other like associations.

The general education board was endowed with $42,000,000 by John D. Rockefeller, and has contributed in recent years $250,000 annually to help pay the salaries of government employees engaged in farm demonstration and boll weevil work in the south.

Senator Oliver, of Pennsylvania, entered a protest against refusal to accept contributions of citizens for any government work and Senator Martin tried to defeat the anti-Rockefeller amendment by parliamentary procedure. Senator Ashurst, after referring to the refusal of Mr. Rockefeller to arbitrate the labor troubles in Colorado and to the homestead strikes in Andrew Carnegie mills, declared he was not in favor of Rockefeller's earnings or any of their class being permitted to patronize the government with "money procured through the work of employees."

250 MOSLEMS CRUCIFIED IN AN ORTHODOX CHURCH

Appalling Work Attributed to the Epirotes Who Have Invaded Albania.

Durrazzo, Albania, May 5.—Two hundred and fifty Mohammedan Albanians, captured by the Epirote invaders at Hormova, were crucified in the orthodox church at Kodra, according to information received by the Albanian government. The Epirotes are said to have set fire to the church afterwards and allowed the bodies to burn.

WASHINGTON INQUIRES ABOUT CONSUL SILLIMAN

Washington, May 5.—Alarmed by unofficial reports that Acting American Consul John R. Silliman, at San Luis Potosi, Mexico, has been a prisoner of General Maas, Mexican federal ommander, for two weeks, the state department today sent urgent telegrams of inquiry concerning him addressed to the Brazilian minister in Mexico City; Consul Miller, at Tampico, and Consul Hanna, at Monterey. Silliman's regular post was Saltillo, but he was transferred to San Luis Potosi in the present emergency.

GREATER HOSPITAL BONDS ARE BEATEN AT POLLS TUESDAY

About Three-Fourths of the Votes Cast Were for Issue, But the Number Received Proved Insufficient.

With all returns from country and city precincts complete, returns of the county democratic primary, held yesterday, show C. Wheeler Mangum, the present sheriff, re-elected over Captain W. M. Mayo and L. O. Wright by a plurality of 291 votes.

Sheriff Mangum received 5,700 of the total of 12,335 votes cast in the sheriff's race. His nearest opponent was Captain Mayo, who polled a total of 5,409 votes. Wright's strength, mustered from the city precincts, was only 1,226.

Sheriff Mangum carried a majority of the city wards. Mayo's greatest show of strength was in the country districts, which he carried.

The Grady hospital bond issue of $750,000 was defeated. About three-fourths of the votes cast were for the bonds, but the issue failed to receive the necessary number to carry them.

Among the seven candidates in the race for a place on the county board from the county-at-large, Dr. W. L. Gilbert and Charles G. Turner are leading, with all indications pointing to their election.

Intense interest was manifested in the election. Voting began early and was brisk until the close of the polls. Perfect order was maintained.

Under the rules governing the election, Sheriff Mangum, by reason of the plurality he received over his two opponents, will be declared the winner, as there is no rule which requires one candidate in a three-cornered race to receive a majority over both his opponents. The same rule will apply to the two leading candidates—Dr. Gilbert and Turner—in the race for commissioner from the county-at-large.

MEXICANS IN TERROR WHEN DENVER APPEARED

On Board U. S. S. South Dakota, At Sea, April 27.—Via San Diego, Cal., May 5.—The entire Mexican population of Salina Cruz fled in terror when the United States cruiser Denver touched at that port Tuesday, April 21, according to a story told by officers of the gunboat Annapolis, which was spoken this afternoon by the South Dakota. The Mexicans believed the warship had come to shell the town because of recent anti-American demonstrations by the more excitable of the native population.

The Annapolis had aboard 16 refugees, including women and children bound from south coast points for Mazatlan to be placed on board vessels bound for the United States. They told of anti-American demonstrations at various places, but said none was of a serious nature.

The British consul, it was said, was looking after American interests in Salina Cruz, the American consul having left.

WHEELER MANGUM BEATS CAPT. MAYO BY 291 PLURALITY IN SHERIFF'S RACE

"Uncle Andy" Stewart Defeats Charles I. Branan for Tax Collector—T. M. Armistead Wins in the Tax Receiver Contest Over Two Opponents.

MILLS LEADS WATERS; TURNER AND GILBERT GET PLACES ON BOARD

Most Exciting Race of Day Proved to Be One Between Hightower and Turner for the County Commission. Quiet Election Day Is Passed.

THE WINNERS.

Sheriff—C. W. Mangum.
Tax Collector—A. P. Stewart.
Tax Receiver—T. M. Armistead.
Clerk Superior Court—Arnold Broyles.
County Treasurer—H. L. Culberson.
Coroner—Paul Donehoo.
County Surveyor—C. S. Robert.
County Commissioner (Country District)—Oscar Mills.
County Commissioners (County-at-Large)—Dr. William L. Gilbert, Charles G. Turner.

Fulton county's democratic primary, held yesterday, following a campaign of more than three months, developed a number of very close races.

Count of the complete returns shows Sheriff C. Wheeler Mangum, incumbent, victor over Captain W. M. Mayo and L. O. Wright. Of the total of 12,335 ballots cast in the sheriff's race, Mangum received 5,700 against Mayo's 5,409 and Wright's 1,226.

Mayo carried a majority of the country districts. Mangum's country strength came from only four of the fourteen polling places.

BONDS GET BIG VOTE.

Grady hospital bonds were defeated. Out of a registration of 14,662 votes, the bond issue received 7,809, lacking 1,969 votes of being two-thirds of the total registration. Although the bonds were not carried, the interest manifested by the voters indicated that the people are thoroughly aroused to the necessity of hospital improvements. There were only 1,026 votes cast against the bonds. Neglect on the part of the voters was alone responsible for the defeat of the bonds.

In the other contests "Andy" Stewart defeated Charles Branan for tax collector by a majority of 2,937 votes. Branan made a stronger race against Stewart than at any other time he opposed him.

T. M. Armistead was elected receiver by a plurality of 446, lacking nearly 2,000 votes of receiving a majority of all the votes cast in the election. Armistead received 5,093, against Abbott's 4,653 and Wesley's 2,632.

Oscar Mills defeated Tull C. Waters for county commissioner from the country district. Mills' majority was more than 3,000. Mills received 7,572, Waters 4,453.

Dr. W. L. Gilbert and Charles Turner were the two candidates who received the highest number of votes among the field of seven candidates for two places on the county board from the county-at-large. Gilbert received 4,882, Turner 4,249. Turner and T. J. Hightower, Jr., ran an exceptionally close race, Turner winning by six votes, the fifth ward, the last to be heard from, giving Turner the victory.

VOTE BY PRECINCTS.

JUDGE BARS REFERENCE TO STANDARD OIL CO.

Oklahoma City., Okla., May 5.—Holding that such reference "could be only for the purpose of arousing sympathy in the minds of the jury," United States District Judge Cotteral today forbid counsel for the defense to make reference to the Standard Oil company in statements to the jury in the trial of H. H. Tucker, president of the Uncle Sam Oil company, and ten of his associates who are charged with having attempted to obstruct the department of the interior in its administration of the affairs of the Osage Indians in Oklahoma.

Judge Cotteral's ruling was made when counsel for Tucker endeavored to relate to the jury alleged "persecution of Tucker by the Standard company as a result of the oil war in Kansas" a decade ago. Judge Cotteral pointed out that nothing had been shown tending to involve the Standard Oil company in the present trial.

The defense also failed today to have ruled out evidence relating to "tentative rules and regulations" governing the proposed leasing of Osage oil lands, promulgated by the secretary of the interior. Counsel for the defendants objected to the rules being declared published and binding upon them. Judge Cotteral announced, however, that his decision was not final and later he may rule out such evidence.

Three witnesses testified today. The evidence given was largely preliminary.

FAMOUS "BETSY" POPE MACHINE REINSTATED

The many motor fans of Atlanta will be glad to learn that L. S. Crane, driver and owner of the famous "Betsy" Pope that has won so many of the big motor meets held in the south, has been granted temporary reinstatement by the American Automobile association.

Both Mr. Crane and his automobile were disqualified by the contest committee of the association back in February for his participating in a race meet held in Birmingham September 29, 1913.

The meet was unsanctioned by the A. A. A. and the disqualification of Crane and "Betsy" at the time created a sensation among the motor sports of Atlanta, and looked for a time that the affair would bar Mr. Crane and his car from participating in the Atlanta Automobile and Accessory association anuual hill climb.

Mr. Crane felt much elated today over the reinstatement, for it places him and his car in position to win the much coveted trophy, which has been won by Crane and "Betsy" for two successive meets, and if he succeeds Saturday, which will make him winner for the third successive time, will give him the permanent ownership of the cup offered by the local association.

EVEN O'SHAUGHNESSY ROBBED BY MEXICANS

New Orleans, May 5.—Mexicans did not even except Nelson O'Shaughnessy, former American charge at Mexico City, in preying upon American property after the fall of Vera Cruz. Practically all of the baggage of Mr. and Mrs. O'Shaughnessy was stolen from the special train Huerta provided for the charge and his party to transport them to Vera Cruz after he had been handed his passports.

The former charge arrived today on the gunboat Yankton, and early in the day he and Mrs. O'Shaughnessy began a shopping tour to replenish their wardrobes, as they arrived with little less than they wore. The party left tonight at 9:35 for Washington.

When shown a dispatch from Vera Cruz saying that he had submitted to Washington, at the president's request, a list of names of Mexicans who might act as a council to take charge of the government in the case of the downfall of General Huerta, Mr. O'Shaughnessy said he knew nothing at all about it. He refused to discuss the Mexican situation in any of its phases.

Heroic Deeds of the Jackies At the Taking of Vera Cruz

Vera Cruz, May 1—(Via Galveston, Texas, May 5.)—The first fruits of the lessons of the Spanish war have been made evident by the military organization of Vera Cruz by American forces. Those who observed both movements at close range say there is little room for comparison. None of the confusion which attended the embarkation at Key West was found in shipping troops at Galveston, and which tropical town still rings with deeds of the bluejackets during the street fighting of April 1.

Funston's brigade trooped down off their transports, an army fit for action. Those who never had seen any troops but the diminutive, barefooted, ragged Indians of the federal guard regarded the Americans as a lot of giant soldiers. The appearance, the equipment, the whole effect of the landing forces was a surprise. No native believed the United States "had troops like that."

The gallant deeds of the bluejackets in the street fighting of April 21 and 22 probably never will all be recorded. Heroism was too common to be noted those days. On the roof of the Terminal hotel, near the water front, Ensign Edward O. McDonnell, of the battleship Florida, was stationed with a machine gun sputtering its leaden hail through the streets, while the jackies came up grinning under the fire. One by one the snipers picked off McDonnell's men and they went down, until more than three-fourths of his crew and force was gone. He would have been justified in abandoning his position as untenable, after losing half his force, but he stuck to the gun himself, with the able men remaining.

"That's what only a boy just out of the naval academy did," said Captain Harry McL. P. Huse, Rear Admiral Fletcher's chief of staff, in relating the story.

"The jackies are only boys; the average is 21. I am told that some of the Mexicans said: 'If this is the way these boys shoot what will happen when the men come down?'"

The walls about the fighting zone attest to the steady aim of the American marksmen. Mexican bullets cracked the electric light globes 20 feet up, shot out second-story windows, chipped the quaint old cornices; but looking on the walls, breast high, head high, stomach high, one finds the smooth round perforations from the steel-jacketed bullets of the American rifles.

Three bluejackets at the end of a street were conducting a long range duel with snipers at the other end. Three shots banged out, a few seconds apart. "Bull's-eye" announced the first jackie; "bull's-eye," said the second; "bull's-eye," chorused the third. Three snipers went hurtling out of the balconies and into the street beneath. Such stories might be told by the hour.

TWO-BATTLESHIP PLAN SUPPORTED BY HOUSE

Washington, May 5.—The administration's two-battleship program for next year in the naval appropriation bill was sustained in the house today when the one-battleship proposal was voted down, 91 to 148, and a motion to strike out the two-battleship provision was rejected, 41 to 152.

An amendment was adopted appropriating $400,000 for the purchase of sites for high power wireless telegraph stations to be located in Panama, California, Hawaii, Samoa, Guam and Philippines, all the sites to cost not exceeding $1,000,000.

Representative Witherspoon, of Mississippi, characterized the expenditure of $7,800,000 for two battleships "damnable graft." Representative Hobson, of Alabama, favored an amendment for constructing a superdreadnought.

Democratic Leader Underwood and Republican Leader Mann, with several other prominent figures in the house, voted with the one ship advocates.

When the house adjourned the remainder of the building program was pending, with a motion by Representative Maher, of New York, that at least one of the new battleships be constructed in a navy yard, and one by Representative Moore, of Pennsylvania, that both contracts go to government plants. Repersentatives of districts in which private yards are located are making a vigorous fight against these propositions. Representatives Jones, of Virginia, said the battelship New York, built at the Brooklyn Navy yards, cost a million dollars more than her sister ship, the Texas, the product of a private builder.

Chairman Padgett, of the naval committee, said that on account of congestion of work it would mean a delay of at least a year to build the ships in government yards. Consideration of the bill will be resumed Thursday.

PANCHO VILLA FIGURES IN THE SENATE DEBATE

Washington, May 5.—A resolution calling upon President Wilson for information as to whether there is any basis for the statement published today that the president may aid Pancho Villa to become the next ruler of Mexico was introduced in the senate today by Senator Lippitt, of Rhode Island. The resolution, under an objection by Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, went over until tomorrow.

Senator Lodge endeavored to have read into the record a biographical sketch of Villa published in a London paper, but Senator Stone cut him off. Senator Lodge promised to read it later.

"I would like to ask the chairman of the foreign relations committee," said Senator Poindexter, "if there is any truth in the statement that the state department is preparing a life of Pancho Villa for the information of senators."

"I have seen such a statement in the newspapers," replied Senator Stone, and closed the incident.

Senator Lodge took the floor later in the day and read the London newspaper article himself. He said that Mexico, too, is interested in the canal and that the United States, in turn, is interested in whoever becomes ruler of Mexico.

"Pancho Villa is a candidate for that office," said the senator.

The article recited the career of Villa from his birth to the present time. It portrayed the constitutionalist general as a "killer of defenseless men, a robber, a violator of women, and told of numerous atrocities for which it said Villa was responsible."

"I see it stated that the state department is preparing a biography of Pancho Villa and I offer these statements for its use," said Senator Lodge.

STEPS TAKEN TO BAR "PINK BOLL WORM"

Washington, May 5.—Fearing the introduction into the United States of the "pink boll worm," one of the most dangerous cotton pests known, the department of agriculture today announced it would hold hearings May 15 on proposed new quarantines against the insect. Three distinct restrictive measures on account of the pink boll worm are under contemplation—one to limit the entry and manufacture of foreign lint cotton to the northern states; prohibiting shipment of foreign lint cotton from northern states to the south, and to restrict importations of lint cotton from any foreign country.

The inconvenience that these measures would cause mill owners, department experts say, would be insignificant compared with the disastrous effects that would be wrought should the pest establish itself in the south.

The insect is found in India, the Straits settlements, Ceylon, Burma, German East Africa, Egypt and Hawaii. Since its introduction into Egypt about five years ago, its ravages have increased until in 1913 they amounted to more than all other cotton insects combined.

"To keep this insect out," the department says, "the barring of cotton seed has been found insufficient, for numbers of infected seed are usually found in the bales of lint. Since the cotton fields of the south are adjacent to many of the southern cotton mills the danger from this infested seed is very great. There is moreover every reason to suppose that the pest would adopt itself readily to conditions in this country.

"The new quarantines will keep approximately 3,500 bales of Egyptian cotton from the southern mills each year. This loss can, in great measure, be supplied by special grades of southern cotton and where Egyptian cotton is necessary, it still will be possible to obtain the yarn from northern establishments. There is, in fact, reason to believe that within a few years Arizona will produce all the Egyptian cotton needed to supply southern mills."

SOUTHERN METHODISTS READY FOR CONFERENCE

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 5.—With the arrival of tonight's trains the roster of delegates to the seventeenth quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, which will convene here tomorrow to be in session three weeks was practically complete. Of the thirteen bishops of the church all are in Oklahoma City tonight with the exception of Bishop W. R. Lambuth, of Nashville, Tenn., who is on a steamer bound for New York. Bishop Lambuth will come direct to Oklahoma City when he lands. Among the delegates are many women and many more will attend as visitors.

Bishop Wilson, of Baltimore, the senior bishop of the church, well preside at the opening of the convention tomorrow. The addresses of the bishops will be read, committees organized and the work to be taken up during the three weeks will be mapped out at the opening session. Tomorrow night addresses of welcome to which Bishop E. R. Hendrix, of Kansas City, will respond.

The board of education met today to formally discuss the report to the convention. This committee will consider action to be taken in connection with Vanderbilt university, over which the supreme court of Tennessee has held the church has no control.

Bishop P. Coyle, of Birmingham, tonight delivered a sermon at St. Luke's church, where the conference will meet.

TENNESSEE CYCLONE LEAVES DEATH BEHIND

Town of Delina Wrecked—One Person Killed and Two Others Injured.

Nashville, Tenn., May 5.—In a cyclone which struck Delina, about 15 miles from Fayetteville, at an early hour Tuesday morning, Mrs. Bird McRee was killed almost instantly and two other occupants of the house, Mrs. Haislip and James Luna, were badly, though it is thought not seriously, injured.

The house was partly wrecked, and Mrs. McRee was blown from her bed across the house. The chimney fell at the same time, and she was struck by falling brick. Mr. Luna was blown out into the road and Mrs. Haislip was blown violently from her bed, striking the opposite wall. At Tom Rives' home the chimney and porch were blown away, and the residence of Mrs. Denham was also badly damaged.

Trees were uprooted, fences blown down and many other damages of a minor nature resulted.

The path of the storm was quite narrow, and so far as can be learned Delina was the only serious sufferer.

INSTRUCTIONS SENT TO MILITIA OFFICERS

Washington, May 5.—Instructions to militia organizations throughout the country governing a possible mobilization of the national guard were mailed to all militia officers by the war department today. The instructions cover particularly the financial operations incident to mobilization and the methods of securing railroad transportation.

Under the regulations the local United States disbursing officers throughout the country would be supplied with funds to move the militia by the various department quartermasters.

MEXICANS MINE RAILWAY TRACKS

Campaign of Destruction to Be Inaugurated if the Americans Advance--Mayo Wants to Seize Tampico.

Washington, May 5.—Information came from Vera Cruz to the war department today that the Mexican federal troops have mined the railroad tracks from Vera Cruz to Mexico City in preparation for the destruction of the road in the event that the American forces attempt a march on the capital.

No confirmation had been received of reports that the San Francisco bridge on the Inter-Oceanic railroad had been damaged.

The mines are reported to be located a half mile apart and Mexican soldiers have been detailed to touch off the fuses should hostilities eventuate.

These preparations and the throwing up of defenses, which are daily making the position of the Mexican federal troops stronger, are said to be a source of worry to General Funston and it is understood that he would welcome orders to start for the Mexican capital at once.

Mayo Wants to Take Tampico.

Admiral Mayo, at Tampico, has informed the navy department that he would have no trouble in taking Tampico with his present forces and it was learned today that he has more than once hinted in his dispatches that it would be advisable to take such action. He has now under his command, in addition to his flagship, the Des Moines, two cruisers and a torpedo boat fleet of nine.

Firing continues daily at Tampico between constitutionalist and federal forces, according to a report transmitted from Admiral Mayo by Admiral Badger today. Heavy guns were heard yesterday morning. The steamer Camaguey, which has arrived at Vera Cruz from Tampico, reports that Mexican federal forces at the latter port were reinforced by 1,500 men last week.

Admiral Badger reported to the navy department today the receipt of word from the torpedo boat destroyer Drayton, at Tuxpan, that Territorial Minister Hacinda there had ordered customs officers not to clear or enter any vessels from or to American ports. This order, it was further reported, had been given to all ports in the state of Vera Cruz.

Americans Detained.

The Drayton also reported that thirteen Americans had been detained against their will at Metlaboyuca, in the state of Puebla, about sixty miles from Tuxpan. This information was given to the British consul at Tuxpan by American refugees who said the Mexican authorities gave as their reason for holding the Americans, a desire to assure their safety. The British consul has wired the governor of Puebla requesting their release.

Admiral Badger also reports that he is forming a special service squadron under Admiral Winslow. He did not indicate what ships would be employed for this purpose. The Tacoma and the Des Moines, it was stated, would remain under Admiral Mayo at Tampico for the present.

"Did ye take yer husband's temperature, as I telt ye, Mrs. Purdie?"

"I did that," doctor. I borrowed a barometer frae a neighbor and put it on his chest, and as it said 'Verra dry,' I tied him a pint o' bear and he's gone off ae work."—London Tattler.

PLEA OF HUERTA SPURNED BY VILLA

Torreon, Mexico, May 4—(Via El Paso, Texas, May 5.)—The answer of General Francisco Villa to a request from Federal General Maas, in command of the Saltillo garrison, that Villa join the federals in avenging the American occupation of Vera Cruz, was delivered to the federal messengers today.

General Villa refused absolutely to ally himself or his men with the federals, and declared that the Huertistas had provoked foreign intervention for their own ends.

General Maas' letter to Villa announced that in addition to occupying Vera Cruz, the port of Salina Cruz had been seized by the United States forces on April 23.

The Maas Letter to Villa.

"To General Francisco Villa:

"I have received instructions to notify the revolutionary chiefs that American intervention in Mexico is an accomplished fact. The United States of the north have committed a grave offense against Mexico by disembarking troops in Vera Cruz, on April 21, and by taking similar action at Salina Cruz two days later. This action constitutes the intention of war and this is the supreme moment to call on the patriotism of all Mexicans to present a united front and forget our differences in the intense love of a country of which we are possessed. We can consider the enemy only as a foreigner, who in the most unjust and ignoble manner has stepped upon the holy soil of our fatherland.

"It is well known that the North Aemricans, following the hypocritical and undignified conduct which they have used in all cases of intervention, have declared that they will not fight against the revolutionists, but only the American government, but it is clearly to be seen that the conduct is for no other purpose than to keep us divided and to make easier their conquest. As Mexican patriots we should not permit foreign nations to mix in our international affairs.

"We, therefore, call upon our brothers to rally to the common cause for the defense of the national integrity. You could not more nobly yield your position than in the cause of all Mexico, that we can march together on the invading Yankees. I have such faith in your patriotism that I do not doubt that the forces of your command will rally to fight the invasion of the Americans.

"I reiterate to you assurances of my distinguished consideration.

"J. MAAS,
"Saltillo, April 28."

The Answer of Villa.

General Villa's answer follows:

"In answer to your letter of April 28, in which, in accordance with your instructions, you invite me to march with you against the foreign invadors of our country, I would say that I understand the conditions fully and also the present diabolical machinations. I know that as an accomplice, you took part in the infidelity and treason of February, 1913, (Madero's death.) This is perfectly well understood, and ou should know that we cannot pardon it and also know that it will be the cause of your ruin.

"I, therefore, give you this answer, only because your official request and my answers are historical douments, and I owe to posterity an explanation of my conduct.

"I know that the Cientificos, by various processes, up to this time, have sought to bring about North American intervention in Mexico. It is known without doubt that the coming of the Americans was desired and provoked by you. The manner in which you have excited internal troubles and then called on all Mexicans to help fight the external troubles, is clear to all the world.

"General Huerta and you did not show much wisdom when you were converted into instruments of the Cientificos and brought about the assassination of President Madero, Vice President Pino Suarez, and other liberal democrats, because you did not realize that the blood of the heroes who started the democratic movement in 1910 would cause a civil war that would lead to your ruin.

"Now you desire to provoke a foreign war to save yourselves from the disaster coming from the civil conflict. You show even less wisdom when you pile up mountains of machinations and lies which will crumble about your ears.

"You have sought to make this union between yourselves and the constitutionalists, who are under arms, and with the pretext of a foreign war you seek to arm many Mexicans whose sympathies are not with you, but whose patriotism you expect to exploit, without reflecting that you are about to arm a people who in justice would chastise your crimes. These same people, when they discover you are an assassin of democracy, you seek to win over by starting a war against a foreign nation to serve your personal interests and those of your party.

"It will soon be proven that the satanic declarations which you traitors to the fatherland have made in stating that we have formed a union with the North Americans is a stupid assertion which will cost you your existence and bring to your families an eternal shame.

"The constitutionalists desire to do all possible compatible with the national dignity to avoid a foreign war, but if we are not able to avoid it we will face two enemies, the powerful stranger and the depraved compatriots.

"For constitution and reform,
"FRANCISCO VILLA,
"General in Chief."

Other Generals Refuse.

Chihuahua, May 5.—General Obregon, commanding the division of the northwest, of the rebel army; General Pablo Gonzales, commanding the northeast division; General Panfila Norena, commanding the central division; General Caballero, commanding the besieging forces at Tampico, and others, have refused proposals that they unite with the Federals to repel an American invasion.

MEDIATORS TO MEET AT NIAGARA FALLS

day and for the first time it became authoritatively known from them that they considered the whole range of Mexican affairs as properly embraced in their work. Their reply to Carranza had made this clear, and while exempting him from the mediation for the time being, it still left the door open for him to come into the proceedings later.

At the war department it became clear that no advance at Vera Cruz was intended, unless to repel attack, but it was known that a definite course of action had been outlined in the event of a resumption of hostilities at Vera Cruz, and the extension of the campaign toward Mexico City. In that event Major General Leonard Wood will be in supreme command with General Funston directing the advance beyond Vera Cruz, and General Charles B. Bailey, of the artillery, assuming command at the base at Vera Cruz. This arrangement, however, is wholly in the line of preparedness and signifies no present purpose of being put into operation.

The text of the mediators' note to Carranza, made public during the day, stated definitely for the first time that all the difficulties which contributed toward the present situation in Mexico bear either directly or indirectly on the solution of the pending conflict between Mexico and the United States. The mediators, therefore, announced that "all these difficulties should be made the subject of consideration in the negotiations."

They also informed Carranza that they considered a suspension of hostilities as indipensable to his participation in the mediation.

TEXT OF NOTE SENT CARRANZA.

The text of the note from the mediating envoys sent yesterday to General Carranza withdrawing the invitation for the constitutionalist representative to come to Washington to participate in the mediation was as follows:

"We have received your telegram in which you are kind enough to tell us that you deem it inconvenient for the constitutionalist cause to suspend hostilties against General Huerta on the ground that such suspension would only accure to the benefit of Huerta and in which you declare that the international conflict between Mexico and the United States for whose solution you accepted our good office is independent of the internal strife in that country.

"We consider this unexpected statement as inconsistent with the idea which caused us to offer our good offices. We think that all the difficulties which have contributed toward the present situation in Mexico bear either directly or indirectly on the solution of the pending conflict between Mexico and the United States. Consequently we think that these difficulties should be made the subject of consideration in the negotiations for which successful conduct we have deemed it indispensable to suspend hostilities.

"Should you not deem it so, we would be compelled in that case to withdraw as inopportune our invitation for the appointment of representatives of the constitutionalists in such negotiations.

"We beg to assure you of our highest consideration."

HOPE TO SOLVE ENTIRE PROBLEM.

The mediators are proceeding with their general plans by which they hope to bring about a peaceful solution of the differences between Mexico and the United States. They consider it essential that there be an avoidance of hostile acts, and so long as there is no resumption of hostilities they will continue to feel that their efforts are tending in the direction of a peaceful settlement.

Outside of the mediators some foreign diplomats took the view that the elimination of Carranza and the limitation of negotiations to amends for indignities for American sailors and marines at Tampico and Vera Cruz would be a step in advance. They pointed out that President Wilson and Secretary Bryan had stated that troops were sent to Vera Cruz solely to redress these indignities. If, therefore, the mediators could furnish a formula for this redress there was no reason, they declared, why the troops should not be withdrawn and the present crisis as between Huerta and the United States ended. Other diplomats familiar with European procedure, when foreign territory has been occupied, were doubtful whether the troops, once at Vera Cruz, would or could be withdrawn until a complete settlement had been effected.

The military situation is affected by the diplomatic status. Carranza is active against Huerta, while Huerta has his hands full in watching the United States forces in Vera Cruz. The American forces will not advance while hostilities are suspended, unless attacked, but even with the truce, Huerta is hesitating to take his troops from Mexico City to mass them against Carranza. Strategically, Huerta has the United States forces marking time in his forces, and the Carranza forces advancing in his rear.

DR. EDWARD RYAN REPORTED SAFE.

During the day the state department announced that Dr. Edward Ryan, the American threatened with death, was in the custody of the foreign minister at Mexico City, but would be started for Vera Cruz Thursday night on a refugee train.

The question of the receipts of customs during the period of the American occupation has been decided by the decision to keep the receipts for interest alleged to be payable from customs receipts.

The Mexican foreign minister today officially notified the Spanish embassy here, which is in charge of the Mexican affairs, of the appointment of the Huerta delegates to meet with the mediating envoys.

The dispatch said the three delegates would be accompanied by Raphael Elguero, as secretary of the mission.

The Colombian legation here today announced that the Colombian senate has passed a resolution deploring the conflict between the United States and Mexico, and expressing warm wishes for the success of mediation and for a peaceful and lasting settlement of all existing differences. The resolution was communicated to the mediators.

RESCUED SAILORS EXPLAIN MYSTERY

was still adrift. The Franconia cruised in search.

Survivors Suffered Terribly.

The survivors suffered terribly during forty hours exposure in an open boat. Their condition was so grave that it was impossible to get their story for several hours after they were picked up.

The Columbian caught fire Sunday when 300 miles south of Cape Race. Captain McDonald ordered the wireless operator, James Drohan, to send out calls for assistance, but a series of explosions put the wireless out of commission. It soon became evident that the crew could not control the fire and the order to abandon the ship was given. The men left the Columbian in two boats. Chief Steward Matthews was in charge of the first boat. This boat put away from the steamer and lay-to for a time, but in the dense smoke that surrounded the burning vessel, the other boat was not visible, and the steward's boat finally drifted far from the scene.

Of their sufferings and of the fate of Chief Steward Matthews the men could say little when they were brought onto the decks of the Franconia.

Searching for Others.

Food and sleep were matters of first consideration and although sympathetic passengers were ready with offers of assistance to the shipwrecked ones, Captain Miller, of the Franconia, saw to it that they were first given the required rest.

Having learned that another boat with nineteen men, probably including Captain McDonald, still was missing and supposed adrift, Captain Miller ordered the Franconia turned about on a searching cruise. No trace of the second boat had been obtained late tonight.

Those aboard the Franconia are: James Drohan, wireless operator; Antone Elas, carpenter; Ivar Iverson boatswain's mate; Unguse Prinze, Jens Jensen; A. Abelnick, quartermaster; Gustav Schriborn, donkey man; Thomas Connor, Juri Lei and Arthur Brantik, able seamen; Anthony Cordenese and Bennett Rother, firemen, and Frank Wedekind, messroom steward.

His Reason.

(From The Ladies' Home Journal.)

"So," said the visitor, "you intend to become a physician when you grow up."

"Yes, sir," said the youth.

A Sale of Tailored Linen Waists

At $1.95 Were $2.95 & $3.50

At $2.00 Were $4.50 & $5.00

At $3.95 Were $6.00 & $7.50

Such waists as every woman needs at this season.

They are waists for service—tubbing does not hurt them.

We call them linen waists—but also there are madras and dimity waists among them—all white—some with stiff collars and cuffs, others with the low turn-back collars and cuffs.

Choose from those perfectly plain but for a few tucks, and those with richly embroidered fronts and trimmed with Irish crochet laces. The reason they are so reduced is because they are a bit crumpled—but one laundering, and a new waist.

Two Waist Novelties Just Unpacked

Made on an elastic belt!

$4.95

A fresh, dainty waist that combines the service of linen and the vogue for colors in blouses. The fabric is a light linen lawn, and it comes in flesh, Copenhagen and mais. Cut low at the neck, with a double notched collar that lies flat. Long sleeves with pointed turn-back collars. A novelty you will like.

Distinctive Styles in Separate Skirts

Silk Skirts, Woolen Skirts

Look upon this as a display of the new styles.

Separate skirts have been pronounced by those in high authority as "good" this spring.

Silk Skirts $13.50 to $18.75

One of the new notes is the long tunic that extends almost to the bottom of the skirt. Sometimes it is ruffled—and is cut back from the front waist.

Then there are many variations of the bouffant styles and the tiered effects.

In all, an authentic display.

Woolen Skirts $5.75 and Upwards

Smartness here!

MORAL OF THE BOND ELECTION.

Two morals can be drawn from the election:

(1) That the overwhelming majority of the voters of Atlanta realized affirmatively the importance of the improvement.

(2) The farce of the principle that makes an important bond issue contingent upon the votes of dead men, absent men, or bushwhackers too cowardly to come out into the open, but whose deliberate absence from the polls was equivalent to a vote against the issue.

With reference to the first point, it is emphatically true that the people of Atlanta never yet made up their minds to secure an improvement but what they have been successful in the end. In the current instance, Greater Grady received an overwhelming majority of the votes cast. Considering that the registration is nearly 15,000, it may be set down that the vote yesterday was an overwhelming affirmation of public sentiment regarding a bond issue to enlarge Grady. Had the question been decided by voters participating instead of voters registered, the bonds would have triumphed.

As it is, the vote of yesterday forecasts that it is only a question of time, a few months, perhaps, before the bonds will be authorized under even the difficult and clumsy two-thirds of the full registration provision prevailing.

There is now pending a proposal for a constitutional amendment requiring that a bond issue shall be validated by two-thirds of the votes cast, rather than two-thirds of the votes registered. This will provide ample margin and ample guarantee against the abuse of the bonding function. It will put a premium upon the sort of citizenship with interest enough in public affairs to come out and vote. It will discount the sort of citizenship too indifferent to the public welfare to vote, or willing to "snipe" negatively by staying at home.

After all, while the result is not as the city hoped, it is gratifying in the tremendous percentage of the vote cast in favor of the bonds. It means that the city will yet get what it wants.

"TAINTED MONEY" IDIOCY.

The senate the other day anticipated the silly season by reviving the prehistoric controversy over "tainted money."

The battle raged around an effort to cut off Rockefeller donations for farm demonstration, and boll weevil extermination in the south.

A few excitable senators declared the millions thus spent were "soiled by the blood of the men and women of Colorado," and phrases of a similar hectic hysteria—all of which is arrant rubbish.

Senator Martin, of Virginia, had the right angle when he said he would be glad to see half of Rockefeller's money spent for developing his state. If the fortune were illegally accumulated, he said, there was a law to punish the man or men culpable.

The incident in the senate reminds us that we are yet suffering a "hang-over" from the era of the muck-raker, the sobsquadder and the solve-it-while-you-wait faddist.

If every dollar, shekel, shilling, mark or franc in this world that ever has been or ever will be "tainted" should be called in, the currency systems of civilization and, with them, civilization itself, would go out of business.

Trace the lineage of the most honest man back far enough and he gets to Adam, who was a pretty tough sinner, according to the standards of his day.

Trace the lineage of the dollar in your "jeans" and at some stage of its wanderings it is likely to have touched hands with some sort of wrong.

The best way to purge "tainted money" is to sanctify it to good uses.

We do not know of worthier purposes than farm demonstration, which is increasing the fortunes and happiness of millions, or efforts to exterminate the boll weevil, directed in the same general channel.

As for the other great social foundations, providing for research work to ameliorate disease, as well as to cure crime and civic inefficiency at their sources—it would be nothing short of a calamity if the "tainted money" howlers wrought their destruction.

What this country needs is a thorough baptism of sanity, a return to reason, and a rejection of the doctrinaires who infest it more sorely than a plague of locusts.

All of these colossal fortunes, being now returned in part and intelligently to the people, came originally from—the people!

The reasoning that would check this voluntary working out of the law of restitution is about as blatant an exhibition of sophistry as ever taxed a country's toleration.

THE SIGN OF THE TAG.

Tomorrow is Tag day.

Tag day can accurately be called the "Annual Festival of the Atlanta Kiddies Looking for a Square Deal in Life."

The proceeds of the tag sales go to the support of the free nurseries and allied kindergartens conducted under the supervision of the Sheltering Arms society, of which Mrs. W. S. Elkin is president.

Placed at strategic points in the industrial sections of the city, the nurseries take care of the babies, from morning to nightfall, of the mothers who must go forth to earn or help earn a living.

Without the kindly intervention of the nurseries, the children would either go neglected or the family income, scanty enough at best, would suffer by forcing the mother to remain at home.

With both the kindergartens and nurseries, the work is the highest type of constructive human conservation.

They are intelligently operated factories for giving to thousands of little bodies and minds the healthy and proper start in life.

The institutions are not to be viewed as simply eleemosynary or philanthropic.

They are among the best positive and direct investments Atlanta can make.

Whatever tends toward self-supporting and efficient citizenship is a financial and ethical asset to the community.

And these free nurseries and kindergartens are proven influences of this nature.

For several years now, the gentle-spirited Atlanta women underwriting this movement have depended solely on the proceeds from Tag day to finance it.

They call upon Atlanta at no other time during the year. They give each citizen the opportunity to co-operate. Whether it is a penny or a five-dollar gold piece you give for a tag, you are a partner in these laboratories for giving human life the proper twist.

The sales tomorrow should assume record proportions.

THE NEXT CURRENCY STEP.

President Wilson has taken the next step toward the installation of the new currency system by the appointment of the federal reserve board. The appointees, as announced, are men of singular aptitude.

If Richard Olney accepts, he will be a tower of strength and conservatism.

Paul Moritz Warburg, member of the great banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., will bring to the deliberations of the board an encyclopedic knowledge of practical financial problems.

Harry A. Wheeler, of Chicago, is a man of vast experience in large commercial and financial operations.

W. G. P. Harding, of Birmingham, president of the First National bank of that city, is foremost among the bankers in the south.

Dr. A. C. Miller, of San Francisco, is an international authority on finance and economics.

These men, with Secretary McAdoo and Comptroller John Skelton Williams, will compose the board. Whether they all accept, or whether the membership shifts, the president has shown a gratifying breadth and wisdom in his choice.

A few days ago Secretary McAdoo was quoted as saying that the new currency system should be in operation by August.

It is to be hoped such will prove the case. The distinct advantage in early organization and installation is that the money system of the country will be on a sound but adjustable basis to meet the strain of the business revival in the fall.

Among the first duties of the reserve board will be to hear the protests against the selection of regional bank centers. From the best advices obtainable, this process will be little more than perfunctory, and will not materially delay the installation of the system with changes in the plans of the organization committee.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

Advices from South Carolina are to the effect that Governor Blease has lost the first technical skirmish in the senatorial contest to Senator E. D. Smith, forfeiting even his own county.

Perhaps it is too much to hope that the results in this first test offer an omen of the ultimate result.

It is possible that the prognostication of a Blease victory, unstable as is everything having to do with politics, may be ill-founded.

All that the patriotic sentiment of South Carolina, and the friends of the state outside of South Carolina, can hope is that the people are at last awaking to the way in which this noisome mountebank is libeling them. There are indications that his latest "coup" in losing South Carolina the southern military encampment by his slapstick feud with the war department has lessened his strength materially.

Up to the Hills.

I.

He heard it in the singing rills:
"Up to the hills!"
In song of twilight whip-poor-wills:
"Up to the hills!"
Clad in the beauty of the spring
The dreaming valley seemed to sing,
And still he heard the echoes ring:
"Up to the hills!"

II.

Out of the shadows of the night
"Up to the hills!"
Crowned as with everlasting light—
The star-gemmed hills!
And still that cry rings high o'er all—
From cabin-door to palace wall;
Forevermore that clarion-call:
"Up to the hills!"

In Calm Content.

According to Folger McKinsey, the poets want but a small portion of the earth:

"Into the quiet let me pass,
Shadow of tree and green of grass,
Content having naught to have all—
That is, the green of the country way,
The sea and the rippling stream,
The sun and moon and the singing stars,
The glory of the little children at play,
And some few kisses, and many scars,
And mornings fresh with the April dew,
Roses, in arms of the rose, and you."

"Before and After."

Just how Father felt long afterwards is told in this little story credited to The Cincinnati Enquirer:

"Daughter found an old love-letter that Father had written to Mother when they were courting. Daughter copied the letter, signed a man's name to it and mailed it to herself. Then she showed it to Father, and he nearly busted a lung denouncing the dog-wazzled, ding-busted, fat-headed idiot who would dare write such a mess of silly, sickly hog-wash to any girl."

"Life now is dreaming

Lulled by the music of birds and singing streams,
Drift, drift forever, Soul—with the dreams!
In a realm of roses hear the world's heart beat:
"Maytime is dream-time and dream-time is sweet!"

And evermore that whisper
Thrilling from above:
"Life now is dreaming

Independence.

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

It is within the solitary confines of a man's own Self—wholly apart from the Crowd—that he is able to set up and wholly garrison his citadel of Independence.

Practically all our thinking and acting is colored to some degree or other by the unconscious noting of the things that are transpiring in the great Crowd, living all about us.

It is as important for an individual to have his Declaration of Independence as for a nation.

It is solely apart from all confusion and babbling of voices that a man separates his own constructed ideas and builds from them an attitude of Independence that is able to make him strong, fearless and unbeatable.

You are what you are, and if you assert it with no uneven voice, the world will accept the fact as final that you are individually Independent.

In dependence is the mastering of all you are, placing side by side with what other people are able to give you—this together with your intention that Independence is for you in every thought and action and a determination on your part to build your little cycle of life among the other little cycles of life that go to make up the one Great Cycle of life.

So it is for you to construct from the simplest duties and experiences of every day, the essence of the best that makes for Independent action and Independent living. And if you succeed in this, you need have no worry when the time comes for you to answer the question—"What shall I do next?"

Why All England Is Upset.

(From Leslie's.)

"If the south has the right to demand autonomy, the north has an equal right to insist on its desire to remain under the Union." This striking sentence reads as if it might have been taken from some old newspaper files in the period just preceding our civil war. It is actually taken from an editorial comment on the Ulster situation by the London Spectator. While the United States had to go through the stress of a great civil strife to keep its states in the union, it seems strange that Great Britain should now be facing possible rebellion from a part of Ireland that insists upon sticking by the mother country. The majority of people in the north of Ireland do not want home rule, but are determined to remain directly under the Imperial parliament even if they have to fight for the privilege. Should the Irish home rule bill become a law, Ulster stands ready to repudiate and resist it.

Ireland is divided on the question of home rule by economic as well as religious considerations. Protestant Ulster, rich in industries, opposes an Irish parliament in which Roman Catholic and agrarian Ireland would be in control. Upon Ulster would fall the principal burden of maintaining a separate parliament and government for Ireland, and Ulster is perfectly satisfied with the government as now constituted.

That the government has blundered throughout its home rule program, that it has underestimated the opposition of Ulster, and that it never will be able to coerce Ulster to submit to an Irish parliament, are some of the conclusions that become more and more evident as the controversy proceeds.

The blunders of the government in its home rule program reached a climax in a move to have a military and naval demonstration to overawe Ulster. Immediately General Gouch and a number of other officers of the army declared that they would resign rather than take up arms against Ulster, and the vacillating government then made the colossal blunder of retaining them in the army on their own terms. "Shall the army rule England?" immediately became the issue of the hour. When John Ward, a labor member of the house of commons, declared that the issue was whether parliament was to make the laws "absolutely without interference from the king or the army," a remarkable demonstration of hostile criticism was aroused against the throne.

Excitement increased when Secretary of War Seely and Sir John French, chief of staff of the army and Adjutant-General Ewart tendered their resignations because the government disavowed assurances they made to army officers.

The Demagog and the Mob.

(From Leslie's.)

"A mob kills the wrong man" was flashed in a newspaper headline lately. The mob is an irresponsible, unthinking mass. It always destroys but never constructs. It criticises but never creates.

Utter a great truth and the mob will hate you. See how it condemned Dante to exile. Encounter the dangers of the unknown world for its benefit, and the mob will declare you crazy. It ridiculed Columbus, and for discovering a new world the mob gave him prison and chains.

Write a great poem to thrill human hearts with pleasure, and the mob will allow you to go hungry. The blind Homer begged bread through the streets. Invent a machine to save labor and the mob will declare you its enemy. Less than a hundred years ago a furious rabble smashed Thimonier's invention, the sewing machine.

Build a steamship to carry merchandise and accelerate travel and the mob will call you a fool. A mob lined the shores of the Hudson river to laugh at the maiden attempt of "Fulton's Folly," as they called his little steamboat.

Emerson says: "A mob is a society of bodies voluntarily bereaving themselves of reason and traversing its work. The mob is man voluntarily descended to the nature of the beast. Its fit hour of activity is night. Its actions are insane, like its whole constitution. It persecutes a principle—it would whip a right. It would tar and feather justice by inflicting fire and outrage upon the houses and persons of those who have these." Much truth in a few words.

The spirit of the mob stalks abroad in our land today. Every week gives a fresh victim to its malignant cry for blood. There were 48 persons killed by mobs in the United States in 1913; 64 in 1912 and 71 in 1911. Among the 48 last year was a woman and a child. Two victims were proven innocent after their death.

In 399 B. C. a demagog appealed to the popular mob to have Socrates put to death and he was sentenced to the hemlock cup. Fourteen hundred years afterward a demagog appealed to the popular mob and all Europe plunged into the Holy Land to kill and mangle the heathen. In the seventeenth century a demagog appealed to the ignorance of men and twenty people were executed at Salem, Mass., within six months for witchcraft. Two thousand years ago the mob yelled "Release unto us Barabbas," and Barabbas was a murderer!

The demagog is the leader and instigator of the mob. He appeals to the passions and ignorance of men. His stay will not be long, for he fills the land with discord, but he never fills a pay envelope.

Smallest Coin in the World.

(From The London Chronicle.)

Talk of "small change" recalls the smallest coin in the world. It circulates in the Malay Peninsula, is simply a thin wafer made from the resinous juice of a tree and has current value of 1-10,000th of a penny. In the southern parts of Russia the peasants use a coin of such small value that a quarter of a million of them are worth no more than 5 shillins. The old Japanese mouseng was worth 1,224th of an English penny. In Portugal the reis is the lowest standard of value, but no 1 reis pieces are coined. A 3 reis piece is equivalent to 12-100ths of our penny.

DAILY GRIST from the STATE'S POLITICAL GRIND

LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS CONTINUE TO POUR IN ON HUGH DORSEY

"What is Hugh Dorsey going to do?"

This is the question one hears in the lobbies of the hotels and wherever politicians gather to swap yarns or make predictions regarding the politics of the state. You hear the question on all sides, but you do not get any definite or convincing answer. You can hear all kinds of conjectures, but no one seems to speak with anything like authority for Mr. Dorsey.

As the days pass, Mr. Dorsey's mail is steadily increasing. Not a day but that he receives letters and telegrams urging him to enter the race for governor, or to oppose Hoke Smith for the senate.

The Dorsey boom materialized some weeks ago and it has gained ground in the most surprising fashion until it is today something to be reckoned with. The present candidates for governor fully realize this fact. In their trips to various parts of the state they have heard of it; they have read of it in the country papers and they would like to know just what Mr. Dorsey intends doing.

Some days ago a reporter for The Constitution called on Mr. Dorsey and asked him if he was going to seek other political honors. He only smiled and said:

"Well, I know nothing about it. It is true that I am getting many letters and some telegrams urging me to run, but I am too busy to think of such matters at present. I am extremely grateful to my friends, but I cannot commit myself at this time."

In south Georgia where Mr. Dorsey has many friends, his name is being mentioned almost as often as here in Atlanta.

There is always interest about uncertainty and the two uncertain factors in Georgia politics today are Hugh M. Dorsey and Joseph M. Brown. They are close personal and political friends. Governor Brown appointed Mr. Dorsey to his present position and it can safely be stated that if Mr. Brown should offer for any office Mr. Dorsey would not oppose him, but would stand aside and give him his heartiest support.

DR. L. G. HARDMAN IN THE CITY; WILL MAKE TOUR OF THE STATE

Dr. L. G. Hardman, of Commerce, one of the three openly avowed candidates for governor, spent Tuesday in the city. Dr. Hardman's headquarters is at present in Commerce, but a little later on he will open up headquarters in this city. He has been to many parts of the state and feels very much encouraged.

"I am going to devote all my energies to this campaign. I have turned all my business affairs over to others to look after and from now on I shall visit as many counties as possible. I have already been to about twenty counties. Only about 100 more working days remain between now and election but I shall cover as much territory as possible in that time."

AFTER ONE MONTH OF CAMPAIGN GOVERNOR SLATON IS ENCOURAGED

Governor John M. Slaton's campaign for the United States senate was one month old Monday. In looking over the past thirty days he feels very much encouraged at the reports that have come in thus far.

He has received letters from every county in the state—about 3,500 letters in all. This is just about one-half as many letters as he received during the entire four months of his campaign for governor in 1912. As the days pass, his mail is steadily increasing and by the end of May the proportion of increase is expected to be much larger. Letters are now coming in at a rate of over 100 per day. Of the number of letters received the proportion of unfavorable ones is about two per cent.

Up to the present time reports indicate that 100 counties are favorable to Governor Slaton. He and his friends consider the showing thus far a most gratifying one.

POLITICAL HEADQUARTERS LOCATED ALL OVER THE STATE OF GEORGIA

Time was when, if a man ran for a state house office, about the first thing he did was to establish political headquarters in Atlanta. That day seems to have passed.

Up to the present time the only two avowed candidates who have their headquarters here are Governor John M. Slaton and Warren Grice, attorney general, who is a candidate to succeed himself. Both are confining their campaigns to sending out letters and both are apparently satisfied with the results they are receiving from this method. Neither will have time to go on the stump.

Macon is headquarters for three candidates—Judge Nat E. Harris, Thomas S. Felder and John R. Cooper. Hardman's headquarters is at Commerce; Anderson's is at Savannah and Hardwick at Sandersville. So it would seem that while we are going to have a warm political season, Atlanta will be nothing like the hotbed it formerly was.

GOOD WOMEN OF ATLANTA WHO WILL MAKE TAG DAY

Tomorrow, Atlanta people will make their contribution to that most commendable institution—the day nurseries, under the directorship of the Sheltering Arms society, of which Mrs. W. S. Elkin is president.

The price of a tag is what you choose to give, the donations last year ranging in proportion from one cent to $1,000.

Remember that fifty cents keeps a child in the day nursery a week. During that time the child is given two meals a day, given medical attention if necessary, kept clean and furnished with clean clothes if necessary.

For twenty-five cents a child can be kept a week in the nursery kindergarten, which includes training and one meal a day.

Through the fund raised Tag day, the Sheltering Arms society is enabled to maintain the different day nurseries in which there is an average daily attendance of 200 children.

They are the children in many cases of mothers who work out of the home, in order to help maintain the children, and if not in the nurseries the children would have little chance to become a part of good citizenship. In the vicinities where the nurseries and kindergartens center, there are few cases of petty offenses, and the little ones who go from the nurseries and kindergartens into the public schools are among the best pupils.

The Ladies in Charge.

The ladies who will sell tags, and the places they will be tomorrow, follow:

Georgian Terrace, Mrs. C. R. Atchison; Marshall's pharmacy, Miss Mary Dull; Majestic hotel, Mrs. S. T. Maratt; Aragon hotel, Mrs. Charles Godfrey; Winecoff hotel, Mrs. Genevieve Meeker; Candler building, Mrs. St. Elmo Massengale; Piedmont hotel, Mrs. J. E. Hickey and Mrs. C. A. Ashe; Equitable building, Mrs. Harry Harman; Kimball house, Mrs. Lee Jordan; Palmer's drug store, Mrs. Frank West; union depot, Mrs. W. O. Mitchell; courthouse and state capitol, Mrs. J. L. Dykes; Jacobs', on Marietta, Mrs. M. Greer; Fulton National bank, Mrs. Macon Martin; Third National bank building, Mrs. A. McD. Wilson, Jr.; Empire building, Mrs. L. C. McKinney; Braselton Drug company, Mrs. R. O. Kerlin; city hall, Mrs. W. E. Beckham; Gas and Electric building, Mrs. Arthur Pew; Sharp's drug store, Miss Mary Barnwell; Ansley hotel, Mrs. Dudley Cowles; postoffice, Mrs. H. M. Wood; Grant building, Mrs. J. R. Gresham; Constitution building, Mrs. Mary Wolford; American National bank, Mrs. W. H. Kiser and Mrs. R. F. Maddox; Mitchell street and Terminal station, Mrs. T. G. Hucks. The Elks club, West End, Decatur, East Point will have committees in charge.

Headquarters on Viaduct.

The headquarters for the Tag day managers will be in the Southern railroad ticket office on the viaduct.

Mrs. W. S. Elkin will be there today from 4 until 6 o'clock to give out the tags and the buckets, and give all necessary information pertaining to Tag day.

A Difficult Question Settled.

(From The New York Times.)

The Alliance's committee on the Biologic Status of Women, consisting of Dr. Robert E. Lowie and Mrs. Leta Hollingworth, reported that after much reading it had come to the conclusion that she was not.

SLAYER OF FATHER IN STRAIT-JACKET

Chester Duryea, Who Killed Millionaire Sire While Asleep, Is Raving—Elder Duryea Big Manufacturer.

New York, May 5.—Chester Bernell Duryea, chemist, who murdered his aged father, General Hiram Duryea, millionaire starch manufacturer, in their Bay Ridge home in Brooklyn, early today, was removed in a strait-jacket from jail to a city hospital tonight, after he had shown what his keepers regarded as signs of insanity.

In his jail cell, where he was confined after arraignment, Duryea paced about, mumbling to himself and occasionally throwing up his hands. His relatives said earlier today that he had shown indications of mental irresponsibility in recent years. The authorities decided on his removal to the hospital so he might not harm himself.

Shot While Asleep.

General Duryea, a distinguished civil war veteran, and head of the famous Duryea Zouaves, was shot while in bed. He was asleep at the time, it is believed. Incoherently the son told how he committed the crime. He gave no reason for it, but alleged that he had received a spiritual message from George Washington to kill the general, who was 80 years old. The son was mild-mannered in court, and did not become violent until placed in a cell.

Before he became violent, Duryea said:

"I was the best friend my father had and he was my best friend. I loved him dearly. If he were here now he could explain the whole matter. I really don't know why I shot him.

"I had made up my mind before shooting father that as soon as he was dead I would turn the automatic pistol upon myself and end my own life. I fully intended doing that while I was firing at my father. After it was over though an impulse came over me and I decided not to kill myself. I wish I had carried out my original intention."

Tragedy on Porch.

The tragedy occurred on the porch at the rear of the Duryea home where both father and son were in the habit of sleeping. About 1 o'clock Chester Duryea slipped from his cot into the house where he kept a number of rifles, revolvers and shotguns for hunting. He selected an automatic pistol and a magazine rifle and returned to the open air porch. Standing within a few feet of his sleeping father he first tired from the rifle and then emptied the revolver.

At the outbreak of the civil war Hiram Duryea organized the Duryea Zouaves and became its colonel. He served throughout the war, retiring at its close with the rank of brigadier general.

General Duryea's father was founder of the National Starch company, and the general succeeded to the presidency of the company. The general retired from active business life some time ago.

Domestic Trouble.

Chester Duryea was admitted to practice law and had intended to take up the legal business of the starch company of which his father was the head. Domestic troubles that culminated in his being divorced by his wife in 1903 discouraged him in this ambition, friends explained.

The divorce action begun in 1901 is also said to have been the beginning of the trouble between Chester and General Duryea, the father taking the side of his daughter-in-law against his son. Mrs. Chester Duryea, before her marriage, was Miss Nina Larre Smith, daughter of Franklin Waldo Smith, of Boston.

"BLUE MOUSE" ON FILM TO ENTERTAIN SHRINERS

New York, May 5.—(Special.)—To furnish seeming and proper amusement for the visiting nobles, arrangements have been made through Grand Potentate Robert D. Williams, of Mecca Temple, New York, to present the European novelty, "The Blue Mouse," at the Grand opera house, Atlanta, during the convention, with the American favorite, Madge Lessing, in the title role.

This will be the first time the film revival of this humorously naughty farce has been presented in America since its original triumph a decade ago. It holds the record of being more French than a franc, funnier than a frolic, and at the same time in every way fit for the younger element to witness.

The production was made in Germany, and all American rights were bought by the Deluxe Attractions Film company, which is represented in Atlanta by the Apex feature service there. The latter arranged through Potentate Williams for the coming engagement at the Grand.

FOUR PERSONS KILLED AND MANY INJURED

Decatur, Ill., May 5.—Thirty passengers and several trainmen were injured and four laborers were crushed to death tonight when a sleeping car and the dining car of the Continental Limited train of the Wabash railroad overturned as the train was entering Decatur. The cars were thrown over while passing a piece of track under repair, falling on some of the trackmen.

Several of the injured persons may be fatally hurt. Twenty passengers in the dining car were taken to a hospital.

ARE YOU FAIR TO YOUR WATCH?

Your watch runs day and night, year in and year out, and it requires more attention than the winding which you give it.

It should be thoroughly cleaned and oiled every other year. If this isn't done the watch may be seriously damaged. The oil accumulates dust and grit and this corrodes. Then, instead of acting as a lubricant, this residue cuts the delicate bearings like a file.

Be fair to your watch! Don't expect it to do more than a locomotive or your automobile.

DOCTORS AND PARSONS ON SPIRITUAL HEALING

Leading English Physicians and Clergymen Investigate and Publish Conclusions.

London, May 5.—An important contribution to a leading topic of the day is found in the report today of the "committee on spiritual healing, or faith cure," appointed by the conference of the clerical and medical professions held in October, 1911.

The committee, comprising prominent clergymen and physicians, obtained answers from many sources to a carefully prepared list of questions.

Conclusions of Committee.

In its conclusions the committee says: "The members of the committee fully recognize that the operations of divine power can be limited only by the divine will, and they desire to express their belief in the efficacy of prayer. They reverently believe, however, that divine power is exercised in conformity with and through the operation of natural laws. With advancing knowledge of these laws increasing benefits are being secured for mankind through human instrumentality. Especially is this the case in the healing of disorders of the body and the mind, and they consider that spiritual ministration should be recognized equally with medical ministration, as carrying God's blessing to the sick.

"The committee is of the opinion that the physical results of what is called faith or spiritual healing do not prove different from those of mental healing, or healing by suggestion.

"The committee recognizes that suggestion is more effectively exercised by some persons than others, which would seem to explain the gifts claimed by 'healers.' The use of religious influences does not differ essentially from non-religious appeals to the mind, yet the former often are more potent.

"Faith or spiritual healing can be permanently effective only in functional disorders, as distinguished from organic disorders, and the committee warns against resorting to healers and postponing medical treatment.

"Spiritual ministrations may contribute to the success of medical treatment and we desire to see more importance attached to them, but strongly deprecate the independent treatment of disease by irresponsible and unqualified persons."

Membership of Committee.

The membership of the committee includes Herbert E. Ryle, dean of Westminster; H. H. Henson, dean of Durham; William R. Inge, dean of St. Paul's; Henry L. Paget, bishop of Stepney, and Archdeacon Sinclair. Among the medical members are Sir Dyce Duckworth, Sir Richard Douglas Powell, Theodore B. Hyslop and Sir Thomas Clifford Allbutt.

The witnesses examined by the committee differed in their definitions of spiritual and mental healing. Some regarded the former as a divine interposition above the laws of nature, while most of them connected spiritual healing today with the gifts of healing of the apostolic church, saying they thought these had long been dormant, although never wholly interrupted.

The witnesses differed widely as to whether moral excellence in the healers or the healed was essential for success. Many of them gave convincing evidence of beneficial results in functional nervous disorders and cases of alcoholism and drug-taking, but not one gave satisfactory evidence of any cases of organic disease cured by spiritual or faith healing alone.

EASTERN CAPITALISTS ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

Spend Day Inspecting Property of Georgia Railway and Power Company Here.

The eastern capitalists, thirty-eight in number, who have purchased the $10,000,000 worth of bonds of the Georgia Railway and Power company, spent Tuesday in Atlanta inspecting the property of the company here, and, incidentally, making a tour of the city.

The capitalists expressed themselves as not only satisfied with the condition in which they found the company's property, but surprised and impressed with the size of and progressive spirit of Atlanta.

Accompanied by the officials of the Georgia Railway and Power company, the visitors inspected Bull Sluice; the Boulevard sub-station; the Fulton county car shops; the Davis street steam station, and the Butler street steam station.

They also took an automobile tour of the city and the country residence districts, paying a brief visit in the morning to the country home of Robert F. Maddox, on Pace's Ferry road.

The party had luncheon at the Piedmont Driving club, and last night were the guests of H. M. Atkinson at dinner at the new Druid Hills Country club.

NO U. S. CENSORSHIP NEEDED FOR "MOVIES"

Washington, May 5.—The Rev. William Carter, of New York, a member of the national board of censorship, and W. S. Bush, of that city, today testified before the house education committee that federal censorship of moving pictures was unnecessary and that the national board already is exercising all the censorship power required.

Dr. Carter said the board now passed on 98 per cent of all moving pictures manufactured or imported in the United States. In 1913, he added, 7,066,000 feet of film were passed upon and 77,273 feet condemned, at a cost to the manufacturers of $468,638.

SOCIALISTS DEFEAT BULL MOOSE PARTY

Though not as wide in its interest as the other elections on Tuesday, to be sure, but quite as exciting to the members of the young men's department of the Wesley Memorial Sunday school was their election Tuesday night, when the young men divided themselves into two parties, known as the Socialists and the Bull Moosers, the socialists winning the election.

The campaign manager for the socialists was V. R. Frank. The manager for the bull moosers was Horace Sandiford. There was exciting campaigning and stump speaking by both sides.

The results are as follows:

Bull Moose—B. S. Sherman, president; Charles Perry, vice president; Charles Girdeau, secretary; Mr. Tredwell, treasurer; Clarendon Chancellor, librarian and press reporter.

Wares for Miss Wilson.

Washington, May 5.—Jewelers of Washington, New York and other eastern cities turned the office of the secretary of the senate into a "sample room" today, displaying several hundred thousand dollars' worth of their wares, from which senators were asked to choose a wedding gift for Miss Eleanor Wilson. No selection was made.

WILLIAM LANIER DIES AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Funeral Services Will Be Conducted at 3:30 O'Clock This Afternoon.

William Clement Lanier died yesterday afternoon at 2:10 o'clock at his home, 595 North Jackson street, after an illness extending for the past seven months. It was known for some time that Mr. Lanier's case was a serious one, and his death was not unexpected.

W. C. LANIER.

Mr. Lanier was 37 years old. He was born in Fayette county, September 17, 1876. He was the oldest of three children of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Lanier, of that place.

He received his education in the public schools, and while a young man came to Atlanta, entering the employ of the law firm of Dorsey, Brewster & Howell, where he remained for ten years, afterwards accepting a position as chief clerk with the law firm of McDaniel & Black, where he remained until his illness some months ago.

Industrious and quick to grasp opportunity, Mr. Lanier made rapid strides in the business world. While he never sought public life to any extent, he was quick to become acquainted, and the friends he made remained true to him because of his fine character and many sterling traits.

He was married, August 9, 1912, to Miss Jessie Wagner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wagner, of 10 Vedado way, Atlanta. She survives him, together with one sister, Mrs. John Rooney, and Claude Lanier, a brother, of 254 North Moreland avenue.

Mr. Lanier was a member of Fulton lodge, No. 32, I. O. O. F., and a prominent Elk of Atlanta lodge, No. 78.

The news of Mr. Lanier's death caused profound sorrow among those who knew him, and the sympathy of his friends and associates goes out to the bereaved household.

The funeral services will be conducted at the residence at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, Rev. C. W. Daniel officiating. Interment at West View.

BURNS MAY BE PLACED UNDER BOND

vial and told her to put a single drop of it on Conley's food.

"And be careful of it," she swears he told her, "as one drop of it is fatal."

An attack upon the methods of the Burns agents was made in an affidavit submitted by Dorsey from Charles Isom, who went to Chicago to work for Burns. Isom says that Aaron Allen, the negro who was formerly employed as a detective at police headquarters, was being questioned by the Burns people in the Illinois city.

Allen had told him, Isom swears, that he had been arrested in Indianapolis by Burns operatives and carried to Chicago. Isom says that he was brought to Chicago to work on Allen, and that after questioning him thoroughly, failed to get out of him the kind of story the Burns "crowd" wanted. He reported to Burns personally, he says, and was told by the detective to "go on back and talk to him again; you can make him come across."

Isom says he went out to lunch, and that, upon return, found Allen locked in a room marked "fire escape." Inside, however, was a large cage, which one of Burns' negro detectives showed him, Isom says, could be adjusted in a short time like a jail cage.

"I talked to Allen in this room," Isom swears. "He told me on this second visit that he would make the required affidavit, but that it would be a lie. I told him I did not want him to tell a lie. I then informed Burns of this. Burns said he'd talk to him in a few minutes.

"In a few minutes, Burns went back and got Allen. He said to Allen: 'You —— —— —— you! You are just loyal to those policemen, and you're telling me a damn lie, and you'd just as well come across and tell me all about it.' After this, the door that led to Burns' office was closed and I heard loud talking, but could not understand what was said.

"I afterwards came from Chicago to Chattanooga on the same train with W. J. Burns, and the next morning on the sleeper, Burns told me that Allen gave him the very affidavit he wanted after I had left Burns' office that night.

"While I was in Burns' office talking to Allen on the day I got to Chicago, Stiles Hopkins came out of the room next door for the purpose of taking me into the hall. Hopkins passed out and said to me: 'Don't tell anybody about my being here and don't tell Allen that I am here.'"

An affidavit has been made for Dorsey by Aaron Allen corroborating Isom's statement. He tells of Burns trying to get him to make an affidavit involving Conley. He says that after he persisted in refusing to make the statement, he was led into a room and left alone. On a center table in the room was a big pile of greenbacks and silver coins. He says that he sat alone for some time in a corner of the room, trying to count the money, but did not touch any of it.

Epps Repudiation.

The George Epps repudiation again came up Tuesday morning, when Solicitor Dorsey introduced an afridavit from the Epps boy setting forth a story of a sensational abduction to Birmingham, where, he says, he was made to sign the affidavit in which he renounced his testimony at the trial of Frank.

He told of being carried to Birmingham by a man posing under the name of Terry, who professed to be a prize-fighter, and who said he would put the Epps boy into the prize ring. He went to Alabama, and, at the station, was met, he said, by a man named Kelly, whom he later identified as C. W. Burke, who put him under arrest, he says, under a fictitious charge and carried him to a Birmingham hotel.

After some time, he was given a document concerning the Frank case to sign, and put his signature to it. He later came back to Atlanta, and, a short time afterward, was sent by Judge Tindall to the state reformatory in Milledgeville.

Stiles Hopkins, the attorney associated with the office of Luther Z. Rosser, submitted an affidavit through Frank's counsel to Judge Hill explaining his connection with the second affidavit which Epps made for Frank's defense.

Hopkins swears that he did not know who had formed the affidavit, and that he carried it to Epps in Milledgeville, asking the boy if he had signed it previously, and if it were the truth. Epps, he swears, told him in the presence of Superintendent Lovvorn that it was the truth, and that he would willingly sign it again.

Mrs. Homer C. Edmondson, mother of Monteen Stover, told in an affidavit, read by the solicitor, about Detective Burns seeking to interview Monteen one day in the offices of Samuel Boorstein, on which occasion Mrs. Edmondson says she slapped the face of Boorstein's woman stenographer, who sought to detain Monteen when the girl started to leave the room with her mother and father.

Brands Burns a Liar.

Mrs. Stover also brands Detective Burns a liar. She declares that his statement on the stand last Saturday was false in that he had declared that he had tried to confer with Monteen Stover, and had been refused permission. She swears in the affidavit that Mrs. Leo Frank and Rabbi Marx arranged an interview for Detective Burns with Monteen at the Edmondson home, and accompanied the detective there.

Burns grew angry, she swears, when Monteen refused to go over the details of her statement, referring the detective to her sworn statement, which was in the court record. When Monteen stood her ground, Mrs. Edmondson says, Burns, preparing to leave, remarked to Mrs. Frank that "she was up against it—her husband would have to bear the thorns."

Mrs. Edmondson swears that she was asked by Boorstein to bring Monteen to the Boorstein office, where she was to be questioned by Burns. She, her husband and the girl went as requested, and were asked countless questions by Boorstein and others. She says Burns, at the time, was not present. Growing vexed at the questions, she says they started to leave. At this moment Burns appeared.

The father and mother and daughter, however, did not return to the office at the appearance of Burns, Mrs. Edmondson states. A woman stenographer caught Monteen by the shoulder, she says, and attempted to stay her. Mrs. Edmondson, enraged at this, slapped the woman's face, and continued with Monteen to the elevator.

The rebuttal testimony offered by the defense comprised a huge pile of affidavits from persons involved in the Frank case investigations. A goodly number were from Burke, one was from Burns, and some came from Dan S. Lehon, the Burns lieutenant.

Luther Rosser Protests.

At one time when Mr. Dorsey was offering affidavits which dealt with the operations of detectives for the defense, Attorney Luther Rosser protested on the grounds that the matters had nothing to do with the issue that had been brought by the retrial motion.

Judge Hill overruled the attorney, declaring that the solicitor was entitled to show the activities of detectives working on the case.

The opening of the defense rebuttal testimony came with affidavits dealing with Albert McKnight's repudiation of his trial statement. Affidavits were introduced from Judge Eugene Thomas, who took the renouncing document, and from John Minor and Charles Phillips, reporters, who interviewed McKnight, and to whom the negro positively declared he had sworn to a lie at the trial of Frank.

Other affidavits bearing on McKnight's connection were made by Dan S. Lehon, Detective Burns, Fred Lyne, Dan McIntyre and Dr. T. W. Hancock, and C. W. Burke—the latter of whom obtained McKnight's repudiation.

J. O. Knight, a notary public, swore to an affidavit to the effect that he took Jimmie Mayfield's testimony, and that she vouched for the truth of the affidavit which she later repudiated. He swears that Dan Lehon, C. W. Burke and Herbert Schiff were present when it was made.

B. Wildauer testified in an affidavit that on Friday, May 1, he met J. C. Duffy on Marietta street and showed him the affidavit in which Duffy recanted his testimony, and that Duffy declared it was totally true. He says that Herbert J. Haas was with him at the time and heard Duffy vouch for the truth of the document.

It was during the presentation of testimony relative to the McKnight phase that Attorney Rosser made a veiled accusation that McKnight had been paid to repudiate his repudiation which he recently did upon coming to police headquarters and appealing for protection. McKnight is still locked up voluntarily in headquarters.

Rabbi David Marx, J. O. Knight, Isaac Schoen, B. Wildauer, Isaac Haas and Otto Schwab attest to an affidavit declaring that Annie Maud Carter's statement of Conley's confession was taken in Herbert Haas' office before them, and that she pronounced it true.

An affidavit was submitted from C. W. Burke, who denies that he ever offered bribes. Jimmie Wrenn, Burke's assistant, makes a similar sworn statement, saying that he was not employed by counsel for Frank and that he had never been to Luther Rosser's office—had not even ever seen Rosser.

Wrenn also swears that Burke instructed him to seek the truth, and to accept nothing but that which was wholly true. Burke, in an affidavit, admitted that he had used the name of Kelly in seeking to get a change of statement from R. P. Barrett, and that he posed as a magazine writer from the north. He swears, however, that he did not offer the witness a bribe of any form.

Rabbi Marx Explains.

Rabbi Marx, in explanation of the charge that Mary Rich makes against him and Mrs. Lucile Frank, C. W. Burke and Dan Lehon, swears that between 1 and 2 o'clock on April 13, he, Mrs. Frank, Burke and Lehon called on Mary Rich. They read the affidavit to her, he says, and asked her if it was true. She said it was, the rabbi swears, except that she saw Conley come out from the rear of the pencil factory about 2:30 instead of 2:15 o'clock on the murder day.

"When she was asked to sign the affidavit," the rabbi says, "she said that she couldn't sign it, because she had sworn to God not to sign anything. Also that she feared newspaper notoriety."

Affidavits from Lehon and Burke uphold the affidavit of Marx.

Burke also submitted a statement in denial of the Dalton charge of attempted bribery, on the heels of which came an affidavit from Jimmie Wrenn, denying the allegation that he had sought to find a co-conspirator who would "frame" a story to the effect that Jim Conley was a pervert.

Henry A. Alexander, an attorney, has made a sworn statement setting forth his study of the handwriting of Conley, and giving his opinion that the murder notes and the letters to Annie Maud Carter were undisputedly written by the same author.

James I. Innis, a handwriting expert of Chicago, who was employed by Herbert J. Haas, has made a statement that he studied Conley's handwriting and the handwriting of the Annie Maud Carter notes for five hours, and that, in his opinion, they were unquestionably written by the same man—Conley.

At the resumption of the hearing at 10 o'clock this morning the defense will introduce some new evidence bearing on the Epps, Isom and Allen affidavits introduced by Mr. Dorsey Tuesday afternoon, and will then close its case. As Solicitor Dorsey has said that he will, in all likelihood, have no further evidence, the retrial motion will go to the arguments today.

GUILTY PLEA ENTERED BY DEMOCRATIC LEADER

Columbus, Ohio, May 5.—William L. Finley, chairman of the state executive democratic committee, pleaded guilty in district court today to an indictment charging violation of the new state civil service law and was fined $50 and costs. On the recommendation of the prosecutor similar indictments against Emery Lattanner, state superintendent of banks; A. V. Abernathy, secretary of the state tax commission, and M. A. Goller, chief clerk in the state banking department, were nolle prossed.

The indictments grew out of charges that democratic state officials and politicians had solicited funds from civil service employees for the maintenance of the democratic state press bureau.

For Miss Louise Towns.

Mrs. M. K. Word will entertain for Miss Louise Towns, of New York, at a box party at the Forsyth Thursday afternoon.

To Give Address.

Mrs. Rose M. Ashby goes to Rome Wednesday, where she is on program for an address Wednesday night of the seventh district Masonic convention, held there the 6th and 7th. Mrs. Ashby's subject is "The Same Guiding Light."

Children's Party.

A happy occasion of yesterday afternoon was the dancing party given at Segadlo's by little Misses Eugenia and Elizabeth Buchanan.

Japanese lanterns, umbrellas and dogwood decorated the hall, and the favors were Japanese fans, flash lights and caps. Miss Eugenia Buchanan wore a dainty dress of mull, embroidered in rosebuds, and Miss Elizabeth Buchanan wore blue embroidered mull.

Seventy-five young guests were entertained.

Afternoon Bridge Party.

Mrs. John A. Hynds was hostess at a pretty bridge party yesterday afternoon at her home on Myrtle street in honor of Mrs. S. H. Malone, of Shreveport, La., who is being delightfully entertained as the guest of Mrs. David Morgan.

Purple and white iris decorated the rooms, and the prizes were a parasol, silk stockings and a box of handkerchiefs.

There were sixteen guests.

For Mrs. Knapp.

Mrs. H. H. Knapp, of Franklin, Ky., a visitor to grand opera, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. House, has been extensively entertained. On Tuesday Mrs. House gave a beautiful bridge party of four tables for her guest. The house was bright with dogwood blossoms. The hostess was gowned in a dainty costume of blue charmeuse, and Mrs. Knapp wore a gown of yellow crepe de chine over pink, with soft pink girdle.

Mrs. Knapp has a soprano voice of much sweetness and wide range. She sang two songs during the afternoon, which were very much enjoyed. She will return home today.

For Sallow, Wrinkled, Freckled, Pimpled Skin

If you have any cutaneous blemish, don't use paint, powder or anything else to cover it up. Too often this only emphasizes the defect. Besides, it's much easier to remove the disfigurement with ordinary mercolized wax. Applied nightly, the wax will gradually remove freckles, pimples, blackheads, moth-patches, sallowness, red or yellow blotches, or any surface eruptions. The affected cuticle is absorbed, a little each day, until the clear, soft, youthful and beautiful skin beneath is brought wholly to view. Ask the druggist for an ounce of mercolized wax and use this like you use cold cream. Remove in morning with soap and water. Many who have tried this simple and harmless treatment report astonishing results.

If bothered with wrinkles or crow's feet, a wash lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint witch hazel will prove remarkably effectual.

Luncheon for Visitors.

Mrs. George Caldwell Speir will entertain today at a delightful patriotic luncheon. The honor guests are Mrs. S. D. Miller, of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Dora Adams, of Birmingham, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Colquitt Carter Cole.

Lawn Festival.

The Junior Auxiliary of All Saints' church will give a lawn festival on All Saints' lawn Thursday afternoon, May 7, at 4 p. m. Ice cream, cake and candy will be sold. Everyone is cordially invited.

For Mrs. Milligan.

Mrs. Walter Brookes will entertain at tea Thursday afternoon in her apartment on Ponce de Leon avenue in honor of Mrs. George Milligan, of Greeneville, Tenn.

Dancing Party.

Miss Ferol Humphries entertained about seventy-five guests at a dancing party last night in the ball room at the Ponce de Leon in compliment to her guest, Miss Louise Whatley, of Columbus.

Little Miss Katherine Humphries presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. J. D. Young, of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Humphries assisted in entertaining.

Thomas-Bowen.

Mrs. H. Thomas, of Bowman, Ga., announces the marriage of her daughter, Bertha Mae, to Mr. W. G. Bowen, which took place May 3rd in Atlanta at the home of Rev. Ficklen.

College Park Woman's Club

The regular meeting of the College Park Woman's club will be held today (Wednesday) 3:30 p. m., at the public school auditorium.

The program that has been arranged by the music committee is especially attractive. Under the direction of Mrs. Kurt Mueller, the cantata, "St. Mary Magdeline" will be sung by fifteen College Park ladies.

Atlanta Pan-Hellenic Meet.

On Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the Atlanta Pan-Hellenic held the most interesting meeting ever conducted by the organization.

It was held at the University club and a large number of the representatives were present. Mrs. Z. I. Fitzpatrick, of Thomasville, Ga., who is president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, made an interesting talk, after which Mrs. Hugh M. Willet addressed the members on the work of the Young Women's Christian association of Atlanta. She explained the many needs of the association and after her address the Pan-Hellenic voted unanimously to take up some phase of work connected with the Y. W. C. A.

Committees were appointed to investigate the matter and the organization will decide later in just what way they will undertake to lighten the burdens and brighten the lives of the less fortunate ones.

Beautiful Dinner Given At Druid Hill Golf Club

Last night Mr. H. M. Atkinson gave a beautiful dinner at the Druid Hill club in compliment to the party of New York capitalists who spent yesterday in the city.

The party entertained by Mr. Atkinson numbered sixty, and they were served in the club ballroom at a table elaborate in decorations of pink roses and valley lilies. The menu served was delicious, and there were many clever after-speeches, which brought forth the eloquence of the visitor in response to the toasts proposed by the host and his Atlanta friends.

After dinner there was a dance, when a number of Atlanta's loveliest young women joined the party, these received by Mrs. Atkinson.

Mrs. Atkinson's becoming toilet was in green satin with overdress of black lace, and Miss Atkinson's lovely toilet was in white satin with trimmings of black tulle and pink roses.

Bridge Luncheon.

Mrs. Edward L. Bishop entertained at a delightful bridge luncheon yesterday at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, in honor of Mrs. William J. Bailey and Mrs. J. F. Jacobs, of Clinton, S. C., who are the guests of Mrs. Thornwell Jacobs. Sweet peas and yellow iris decorated the living room and hall and pink roses attractively arranged were the flowers in the dining room.

The prizes were silk stockings, a fan, and the guests of honor were each given handkerchiefs.

Invited to meet the visitors were Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. Robert K. Rambo, Mrs. Peter Erwin, Mrs. Leslie Carnagy, Mrs. Frederick Palmer, Mrs. Augustus Wilkerson, Mrs. John C. Wayt, Mrs. Murdock Walker, Mrs. George Docker, Mrs. Chessley B. Howard and Miss Sallie Melone. Mrs. Mark Sheriden, Mrs. Harry Ellis and Mrs. William Rhett joined the players for luncheon.

Mrs. Bishop wore tango crepe.

Church Restaurant.

The ladies of the First Christian church will hold a restaurant for the Shriners at 134 Peachtree street, across from the Candler building.

All ladies of the church are urged to attend a call meeting at the restaurant, 134 Peachtree street, Wedensady afternoon, May 6, at 3:30 p. m.

Cooking School.

The menu for Wednesday at the Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., cooking school, which is being held each morning this week at Craigie house, is as follows:

Pastry

Meringue pies Custards

Strawberry shortcake.

The lessons are held from 10 to 12 o'clock, and the tickets are $1.00 for the six lessons.

Suffragists to Meet.

An interesting program has been arranged by the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association for the meeting on Wednesday afternoon, at the Ansley hotel.

Dr. Caleb A. Ridley, pastor of the Central Baptist church, will make an address. Dr. J. J. Hall, president of the Peace Society of Georgia, will speak on the peace movement, and there will be songs by Mr. Rodgers, music director of the Central Baptist church.

The meeting will open at 3:00 o'clock, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Blount-Cheatham.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartow Blount have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Ida May, to Mr. Elliott Evans Cheatham, on the evening of Wednesday, May 20, at 9 o'clock, 649 Piedmont avenue, Atlanta.

A Notable Occasion.

The History class has issued invitations to a reception to be given on Friday, May 8, at the residence of Mrs. Alfred Buck.

The reception is to celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of the class, and the invited guests will include the former members, and the members of the Twentieth Century and 19th Century History classes.

Ice Cream Festival.

An ice cream festival will be given by the Central Hill Tennis club on the lawn of O. H. Starnes, (opposite school house) Central Hill, Thursday, May 7. Hours 4-6; 7-10. Special occasion. Everybody invited. Take River car line. Don't forget the time—Thursday, May 7.

Club Reception.

An event of pleasure was the reception given by the Swastika club to their husbands at the home of Dr. John F. Freeman, on Tenth street. The drawing room where the guests were received was artistically decorated with sweet peas and carnations.

Mrs. Rothwell Gann presided over the punch bowl. Mrs. T. A. Drye won the prize in a guessing contest. Dr. Freeman won the prize for being the best looking man.

An interesting musical program was rendered, after which a lovely reading by Mrs. Martin was rendered. Then a delightful buffet luncheon was served.

The following were present: Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Drye, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Belle, Mr. and Mrs. Rothwell Gann, Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Freeman, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. McCleskey, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Moon, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Misenhamer, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Laramore, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Will Eubanks, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Stamps, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. T. B. Passmore, Mrs. J. T. Collier, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. W. Griffith, Mrs. E. E. Moyer, Miss Marie Freeman, Mr. George Martin, Mr. Glenn Moyer, Miss Evelyn Freeman.

Rummage Sale.

All day Saturday there will be a rummage sale at 250 Edgewood avenue to be held under the auspices of the Atlanta Pan-Hellenic, the receipts to be used for charity.

Please notify us if you can help us. Anything and everything will be appreciated.

Mrs. Ehney's Luncheon.

Mrs. Edward Ehney entertained at a luncheon yesterday at her home on Fifteenth street in compliment to Mrs. Hubert Stanley Dent, of Washington, D. C., who is the guest of Mrs. James E. Hickey. Plants and a profusion of flowers were attractively arranged through the apartments and in the dining room, where a delicious luncheon was served buffet. The decorations were in green and white. A plateau of white peonies, from the center of which arose a tall silver vase, also filled with peonies, was the central decoration of the table, and other artistic details were in white and green.

Mrs. Ehney wore a handsome gown of black lace and chiffon and Mrs. Dent wore wistaria crepe, the corsage of lace and chiffon and her hat to match was trimmed in goura feathers.

Mrs. Hickey wore a gown of bronze colored taffeta and her leghorn hat was trimmed with flowers.

There were thirty-five guests.

For Mrs. Bradley.

Mrs. William A. Parker entertained at a pretty luncheon yesterday at her home on Fourteenth street in compliment to Mrs. Bradley, of Worcester, Mass., the guest of Mrs. Floyd McRae.

The guests included a few of Mrs. Bradley's friends.

This Is Nemo Week in Our Corset Salon

And Nemo Week Stands for Economy and Education

ECONOMY Dealers everywhere prepare for Nemo Week by placing in stock the very latest Nemo models—always the last word in corset style and comfort—and replenishing their stocks of the well-known and popular numbers that are always in universal demand. This gives you your selection from full lines of fresh, new goods, and the very newest fabrics and styles; therefore, the BEST POSSIBLE VALUES. And expert fitting will assure you a corset that will give you lasting satisfaction and long wear—that's another economy.

EDUCATION During this great trade movement, dealers vie with each other to give the best Nemo corset service. This is highly important, especially this season, when Fashion's requirement is for a fashionable figure rather than a fashionable gown. The keen rivalry between expert fitters in the various stores insures you their most able assistance in the fascinating study of correct style, and in the selection of the corset best adapted to attain that style for each individual figure.

The Rivalry of Nemo Week Is That of SERVICE—Not PRICE

Nemo Week this year brings you the only complete standardized line of corsets in existence, from the old short models to the extreme of present fashion, including—

KOPSERVICE—Four Wonderful Models, all at $5
SELF-REDUCING—Thirty Models, $3, $4, $5, $7.50
LASTIKOPS—Ten Models at $3.00, $5.00 and $10

All former successes will be eclipsed by this Nemo Week. Practically every woman will realize that she cannot afford to miss this opportunity to study the new Nemo models.

TRIBBLE EXPLAINS ABOUT CHAPLAINS

Georgian States He Did Not Intend to Stir Religious Controversy.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, May 5.—(Special.)—Representative S. J. Tribble, of the eighth Georgia district, explained today that he did not intend to stir up a sectarian religious controversy in calling attention to the proportion of chaplains in the navy representing the various denominations.

In his speech on Saturday, as reported in the Congressional Record, Mr. Tribble, discussing the proposal to increase the number of chaplains in the navy, said:

"The Congregational church has one, the Disciples of Christ has one, the Universalist has one, Catholic six, Episcopalian five, Methodist six, Baptist three and Presbyterian one.

"The discussion in the naval committee proceeded with the idea that the increase of sixty-five chaplains carried in this bill for the purpose of placing chaplains on ships.

Wants Chaplains on Ships.

"I would not oppose this measure if it required those in authority to station the chaplains on ships. Also it should take from the chaplain authority to require of the enlisted seamen any religious duty that conflicts with the constitution of the United States granting religious freedom to all men. The men should be permitted to worship God according to the dictates of their own conscience. There are twenty-four chaplains in the navy, and of that number seven are on battleships. The others are located in the navy yards."

Continuing, Mr. Tribble asked why the government should pay a chaplain at the Washington navy yard when there were denominational churches within easy reach of the officers and men?

Referring to the request of Secretary of the Navy Daniels for twenty-four welfare secretaries, he read as follows from the secretary's letter: "I think there is very great need on our ships of young men—young men who are interested in religion and what you call social welfare. I believe that in this work the young man would help us tremendously in the educational policy."

"Why was not this request granted?" asked Mr. Tribble. "The secretaries were not granted the secretary of the navy. I did not desire to discuss this issue, but gentlemen insisted upon forcing it on me. I will not express any opinion, but read you the record which others made and is printed as part of the proceedings of this house."

Letter From Cardinal Gibbons.

As an explanation of why the social welfare secretaries were not granted, but a request made for sixty-five chaplains, Representative Tribble read a letter from Cardinal Gibbons to Father O'Hearn, published on page 352 of the naval committee's hearings. It follows:

"My Dear Father O'Hearn: As our representative in matters pertaining to army and navy chaplains, may I ask you to personally call on the members of the committee on naval affairs, both of the senate and the house of representatives, and urge upon them the necessity of more chaplains for the navy. Explain to them that the proposed scheme of substituting 'welfare secretaries' for chaplains does not meet with the approval of the American Catholic archbishop, since no laymen can do the work of an ordained clergyman.

"Most faithfully, yours, in xt.,

"J. CARDINAL GIBBONS,

"Archbishop of Baltimore."

Mr. Tribble made this comment:

"Gentlemen, having heard the testimony as given in the committee and observing the fate of the recommendation of the secretary of the navy for twenty-four welfare secretaries and the substitution of sixty-five more chaplains, you will no doubt understand why I have called your attention to these facts I have placed before you shown by the record."

Comment By Tribble.

In commenting upon the dispatch in Sunday's Constitution of his speech Saturday, Representative Tribble made this statement:

"I did not object to an increase of chaplains if the department would require them to serve on ships where the law contemplated they should be. I did not argue the question of unequal division of chaplains—I did not say anything about Episcopalians or Catholics having too many chaplains. I objected to chaplains for navy yards and I objected to chaplains having authority to dictate to the seamen that they should participate in prescribed form of religious ceremonies if the men objected to doing so.

"I do not think Episcopalians, Methodists, Catholics, Baptists or any denomination should be required to attend the service of another denomination if they do not care to do so. And my proposition was not to give chaplains official authority; in this respect I quoted the constitution, which reads as follows:

"'All men have the natural and inalienable right to worship God, each according to the dictates of his own conscience and no human authority should in any case control or interfere with such right of conscience.' I have furthermore always advocated an adequate navy and will support two battleships this year."

DARKENS GRAY HAIR, STOPS FALLING HAIR

Something New--Darkens Evenly—Makes You Look Young, Vigorous.

When your hair begins to turn gray, streaked, faded or brittle, or if hair is all gray or white, try the following: On retiring apply Q-Ban, like a shampoo, to hair and scalp. The gray disappears and a few more applications of Q-Ban, the hair is beautifully darkened so evenly and naturally no one can tell it has been applied. Q-Ban is very popular because, in addition to beautifully darkening the hair, it produces that soft, dark luster and appearance of abundance to the hair which makes the hair so fascinating and attractive, besides prevents dandruff, itching scalp and fading hair, and promotes the growth of thin or brittle hair. Q-Ban is not sticky or mussy—delightful to use. Cannot injure or stain the most delicate scalp or hair. If you care for dark, thick, soft hair, free from grayness, make a personal trial of Q-Ban. It will please, delight and surprise you with beautiful, dark hair and lots of it. A large 7-ounce bottle sold and guaranteed for only 50 cents by Edmondson's Drug Stores, 11 N. ONE PERSON KILLED AND 7 FATALLY HURT

Texarkana, Texas, May 5.—One life was lost and seven persons probably will die, while property estimated at $100,000 was lost in the tornado that yesterday swept through Maud and Redwater, Texas. That was the information brought here early today by members of the relief train which last night was sent from here.

At Redwater seventeen buildings, including the postoffice and depot, were demolished. Only one residence was reported untouched.

At Maud several buildings were blown down and only a few escaped some damage. Mrs. Pearl White was killed there. The wind picked her up, and when found part of her dress and one shoe had been torn off by the force of the wind.

The storm passed near Pittsbug, Texas, damaging a number of farm houses and injuring several people, but killing none.

GEORGIAN IS NAMED BY THE ENGINEERS

Nashville, Tenn., May 5.—At the closing session of the executive committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers here the following officers were elected:

F. D. Howard, of Waycross, Ga., chairman; T. J. Neissett, of Birmingham, vice chairman; Harry Huddleston, of Manchester, Ga., secretary and treasurer.

The annual convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for the southeastern territory will open tomorrow morning in Nashville and will be in session through Saturday.

W. B. Printer, first grand engineer; F. W. Church, president of the insurance association; W. E. Willis, assistant grand chief, and T. A. Burgess, assistant grand chief.

Cattle From Grady.

Thomasville, Ga., May 5.—(Special.) Grady is making some record as a cattle county, seventy-four head of unusually fine cattle having been shipped from that county within the past few days, for which $3,609.44 was received. These cattle were raised by W. B. Roddenbery, J. W. Burroughs, Thomas Wight and W. D. Barber. These cattle were not shipped to western buyers, but were sold to Savannah dealers.

FREE CANAL TOLLS FOUGHT BY STONE

Says Exemption Clause Is Subsidy, and That Democratic Party Has Already Opposed Subsidies.

Washington, May 5.—With the explanation that the Baltimore platform merely approved of congressional action in asserting the right of the United States to exempt from tolls American vessels passing through the Panama canal, but did not sanction the granting of subsidies to American coastwise vessels, Senator Stone, of Missouri, today told the senate that he would vote for tolls exemption repeal, after voting for the exemption in 1912.

Challenging many arguments made in favor of exemption made by Speaker Champ Clark, without mentioning the latter by name, however, the senator expressed astonishment at "eminent members" of the house and senate taking the "superficial view" of the Baltimore platform's pronouncement on tolls.

Answer for All Time.

Senator Stone declared that the action of congress in 1912 in passing the exemption in the face of a protest from Great Britain, was America's answer for all time for its rights to do as it pleased with the canal.

"No foreign government is now asking us to repeal this law," asserted Senator Stone, who is chairman of the foreign relations committee. "True it is that in the course of the debate it has been said that the exemption violates the Hay-Pauncefote treaty. But that is being said here in congress and in American and foreign newspapers, and not by foreign governments. No foreign government has filed any protest against the exemption since its enactment."

Having presented his viewpoint on international rights in the canal, Senator Stone said congress was now proceeding to deal with the domestic question of subsidies; that coastwise vessels already enjoyed a monopoly, and that he had heard they were in league with the trans-continental railroads. In support of this charge, he had been informed that coastwise ships refuse to convey any passengers from Norfolk to any port south of that city, such as Charleston, Savannah or Jacksonville.

In support of his interpretation of the platform, Senator Stone read the plank against all subsidies, and another plank which approved the exemption of coastwise vessels. He said that the platform writers must have had in mind the subsidy plank when they wrote the tolls plank, and did not mean to write a contradictory platform.

Democrats and Subsidies.

"Surely no democrat will contend that the convention intended to commit the democratic party to the policy of ship subsidies, and certainly not to make subsidies a fixed and permanent party policy," said Senator Stone. "If we cannot now safely and consistently repeal the coastwise tolls provision of the act of 1912 because of what happened three years ago or because of this platform declaration, then we have tied our hands, and we will be powerless to rid ourselves of it unless we cleave it with a sword. If that be true, then we have reversed our historic position on the question of subsidies and become in a twinkling of an eye the boldest, most arrant and uncompromising advocates of subsidies. I utterly repudiate the notion that the democratic party has placed itself in any such pitiable conditions."

He defended the president in favoring exemption repeal, saying he was not much disturbed by the "lurid flabbergast" daily displayed in newspapers.

"It's funny," said the senator, "how even smart men are sometimes so beset with a kind of moral or mental splenitis as to do things so foolish that normal human beings wonder if the poor fellows have lost their reason. It is not unusual, however, to find men, spurred by personal or partisan considerations, who desperately strive to stampede their countrymen by noisy argument and loud alarms, willing, as they have little to lose, to take a gambler's chance on winning."

YOUNG NIXON GUILTY OF BREACH OF PEACE

New Haven, Conn., May 5.—Stanhope W. Nixon, until recently a prominent Yale student and a son of Lewis Nixon, of New York, today was found guilty in the city court of a technical charge of a breach of the peace, in connection with the assault of Edward W. Everet, chief engineer of a telephone company, on October 21, last. Judge O'Meara imposed a fine of $200 and costs. Notice of an appeal was filed.

Nixon went on the stand in his own behalf, and was a frank witness. He said on the night in question he had been drinking with other students and his mind was a blank as to what had occurred. He declared that his alleged statement to detectives was in no sense a confession. He would not deny that he made the assault, he said, because he could not remember anything that had happened.

Counsel for the defense sought to have the alleged confession excluded, but the judge admitted it. Four students testified that they had seen Nixon near a fraternity house at the time the assault is said to have taken place.

Throughout the trial today the courtroom was crowded by Yale students, many sitting cross-legged on the floor.

Nixon, until his recent withdrawal from college, was a member of exclusive societies and was a varsity oarsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Nixon were in court and were visibly affected by their son's testimony.

WILSON ASKED TO VETO SMITH-LEVER MEASURE

New York, May 5.—An appeal to President Wilson to veto the Smith-Lever agricultural extension bill on the ground that it discriminates against the negro farmers of the south, has been made in the name of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People by Jane Addams, Herbert Parsons, Moorfield Storey, Oswald Garrison Villard, Joel E. Spingarn and Willam S. Bennett. The letter, as made public yesterday, calls attention to the fact that the two amendments adopted in the senate "which eliminated from the bill its discriminatory features," were thrown out by the conference committee and that the conference report has just been adopted by both houses of congress.

The bill in its present form, says the writers, leaves to the state legislature the question of distributing federal appropriations for diffusing knowledge concerning agriculture and home economics. Experience has shown, they assert, that by such distribution the negro will suffer.

For Washington Memorial.

Washington, May 5.—Plans by Tracy and Swartwout, of New York city, for the proposed George Washington memorial here have been selected as "the most satisfactory" by the jury of award of the George Washington Memorial association. The memorial was authorized by congress and is to be located in the Mall. Work of construction must begin before March 4, 1915. This cannot be begun, however, until $1,000,000 is raised, although a good part of it has been secured.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION AND EQUAL SUFFRAGE

Both Questions Before the House and a Vote May Be Forced.

Washington, May 5.—Joint resolutions proposing amendements to the federal constitution to extend the right of suffrage to women and for nation-wide prohibition today were ordered reported, without recommendation, to the house by the judiciary committee. This leaves both proposals to the house for decision without suggestions from the committee.

The vote was viva voce, and carried overwhelmingly. Representative Dupre, of Louisiana, and several others who voted against both measures in committee, said they would carry the fight to the floor of the house. The two measures immediately will be put on the house calendar. The action of the committee enables the house to directly reach a vote, if sufficient strength develops.

The woman suffrage amendment provides that the right of "citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any state, on account of sex." It was introduced by Representative Mondell, of Wyoming.

The prohibition amendment proposed by Reperesentative Hobson, of Alabama, "prohibits the sale, manufacture for sale, importation for sale and exportation for sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes." It would allow congress to regulate the traffic in liquor for "sacramental, medicinal, pharmacetutical or scientific purposes, or for use in the arts."

SADA FOUGHT RATS IN A FOUL DUNGEON

New York, May 5.—After being confined in a foul dungeon where he fought rats, and being marched at the point of the bayonet through the streets of Port au Prince, Abduah Sada, a Syrian born American was deported by the Haytien authorities. Such was the story he told when he arrived here on the steamer Allemandias.

He is on his way to Washington to complain of his treatment to the state department. It was "for political reasons," Sada said that he was eviled after soldiers had thrust him into prison. A trial was refused him.

Sada said that all his possessions in Haiti, valued at $15,000, were confiscated by the Haitien government on the theory that he was an accomplice in the slaying of President Leconte. He was accused, he said, of complicity in the dynamiting of the National palace in Port Au Prince in August, 1912, when the president and many soldiers were killed. He declared he had nothing to do with the matter.

Sada is a merchant with wholesale interests in Port Au Prince and offices in New York. He was naturalized in the United States in 1903.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS MEET IN WAYCROSS TODAY

Waycross, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Waycross is prepared for the grand conclave of the grand commandery, Knights Templars of Georgia, which opens a two-day session here tomorrow morning. Many of the delegates reached the city today, but the majority will arrive in the morning.

The annual review and parade takes place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, the parade forming on Plant avenue, in front of LaGrande hotel. The opening exercises will be held at the Grand theater, after which the formal opening will take place at the Masonic hall.

ITALY AND AMERICA SIGN PEACE TREATY

Washington, May 5.—Secretary Bryan and Marquis Cusani Confalonieri, Italian ambassador, today signed a treaty providing that any question between the United States and Italy that cannot be settled by diplomacy shall be submitted for investigation to an international commission of five members.

The period of investigation is fixed at one year, although it may be shortened. The treaty, in a general way, follows the terms of a pact signed by Secretary Bryan with the Netherlands. It is the fifteenth of the new Bryan peace treaties.

No provision is made for the preservation of the status quo of the army and navy as in the previous conventions.

Cardinal Gibbons to Rome.

New York, May 5.—The North German Lloyd liner Prinzess Irene sailed for Naples today with Cardinal Gibbons and a number of bishops and priests in his party. The cardinal goes to Rome to visit the pope. He occupied the captain's quarters and the piers at Hoboken were decorated in American, German and papal flags.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED CRISP COUNTY PUPILS

Cordele, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—The annual contest of the Crisp county schools in elocution and oratory was a very interesting event of yesterday morning. Most of the schools of the county had representatives in the contest, and all of them acquitted themselves in a creditable manner. In the oratorical contest L. B. Gleaton, of the Clements school, won a gold medal offered by S. P. O'Neal, of Macon, for whom the local public school was named. Miss Alma Klein, of the Pinia school, was awarded a gold medal offered by R. L. Wilson for the best reading.

"I KNOW" SHE SAYS "THAT THIS IS TRUE"

Sick Headache, Mrs. Alexander Says, All Her Life; Black-Draught The Only Medicine That Stopped it.

Niangua, Mo. — Mrs. N. Alexander, of this town, supplies the following item for publication: "I feel it my duty to tell of the benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught. I have used it long enough to know what I say is true, and my statement can be published.

I had sick headache all my life, and Black-Draught was the only medicine I could ever get to stop it. It has also relieved me of indigestion.

My little boy, Joe, thinks he could not do without Black-Draught over night. It is the only thing he could take to do him any good for pin worms.

I don't see how I could get along without Black-Draught, and I always keep it in the house."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for all derangements of the liver and stomach, such as headache, constipation, indigestion, biliousness, sour stomach, torpid liver, bitter taste, offensive breath, dizziness, etc.

It is made from pure, vegetable herbs, and acts by gently stimulating the liver to purify the blood, and by regulating its natural functions.

Edited By DICK JEMISON

Lookouts Hammer Pellet Winning Opener Here 5-2; Their Fourth Cracker Win

By Dick Jemison.

Moose McCormick's Chattanooga Lookouts whaled three Cracker twirlers to all sections of Ponce de Leon park Tuesday afternoon and copped the opener of the present series 5 to 2.

The Moosemen appear to have something on the local entry in the Southern league pennant race, at least they have shown it to date, with four wins in five games played, the fifth game being a tie.

The Moosemen were garbed in their hitting garments Tuesday, garnering no less than fourteen bingles during the afternoon, a two-ply smash and a three-corner clout being mixed in with twelve singles.

Perryman Routed.

Perryman started for the locals, the first four men up hitting safely, sending two runs across the plate and causing his retirement.

Rube Kissinger, who first succeeded him, was hit hard, but tightened in the pinches, his own error being mainly responsible for two of the three runs scored off his delivery.

Browning, who twirled the last two innings, did not allow a run.

Harding, a lanky right hander, went the whole route for the Lookouts. He wavered unsteadily throughout, tightening up at times and being aided by some brilliant support and many smiles from Dame Fortune at others.

All the pitchers were hit harder than the score indicates, especially Harding. Both sides should have had more runs with things breaking according to Hoyle.

The Stars.

Manager McCormick and Baby Doll Jacobsen were the leaders in the Lookouts' attack, the former registering a single, a double and a triple and the latter three singles. Steamer Flanagan got three singles for the Crackers.

There were few if any fielding features and only one pitching, when Kissinger took the mound in the first inning with two runs in, none out and two men on the bases and got by without any further scoring.

No alibi is necessary. The Lookouts deserved to win. They outplayed the locals in every department of play and as is always the case when a team is winning, got the best of the percentage of breaks that goes in every ball game.

Today is another day. Let's see how they look today. They have something on us thus far, but we do not believe that they are a better ball club than the Crackers, although they showed it Tuesday. After the series is over, we will be better able to judge the relative merits of the two teams.

How They Scored.

The Lookouts grabbed off two runs in the opener. Johnson singled to left and went to second on Long's error. Balenti beat out a hit to deep short, Johnson going to third. Jacobsen beat out a hit to McConnell, Johnson scoring, and when McConnell fumbled Balenti went to third, scoring on McCormick's double.

Kissinger then took charge and stopped the scoring until the sixth, the Crackers getting a run in the meantime—in the third.

In the sixth, McCormick beat out a hit to McConnell. Flick singled to right. Flanagan pegged to third and when Kissinger let the ball get away, McCormick scored and Flick went to third, from where he tallied on Graff's single.

Eibel walked in the Crackers' sixth, went to second on a wild pitch, to third when Long beat out a hit to first and tallied on Flanagan's sacrifice fly.

Birmingham, Ala., May 5.—Curley Brown was accorded good support by his teammates here today, and this, combined with timely hitting, gave Birmingham a second victory over New Orleans. By losing today New Orleans surrendered first place to the Chattanooga team. Two pitchers, McIntyre and Glavinch, were used by Manager Dobbs, of the visitors, but neither caused the local batters much worry. Home runs by Sylvester and Magee featured the contest.

EMORY BASEBALL

TEAMS—	Played.	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Seniors	7	5	2	.713
Juniors	7	4	3	.571
Sophomores	7	4	3	.571
Freshmen	7	1	6	.145

For the first time in their college course of four years, the seniors hold the undisputed lead in a branch of Emory's athletics, and this comes in the baseball race by the seniors winning over the freshmen by the score of 12 to 3, and the juniors losing a battle with the sophomores by 5 and 3 totals.

Georgia-Alabama League

Newnan, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Rome took the second game of the series from Newan today by the score of 1 to 0, after ten gruelling innings. The game was a pitchers' battle between Aaron and Hawkins, the former yielding three hits and fanning seven men, the latter giving up four hits and fanning ten men. Bray broke up the game in the tenth with a homer, the only tally of the game.

FRIDAY LADIES' DAY IN PRESENT SERIES

Tuesday and Friday are ladies' days at Ponce de Leon park. As both days appear in the present series with the Lookouts The Constitution was doubtful as to which day would be used, announcing Tuesday in that day's paper.

But it has since been officially announced that Friday is the ladies' day of the present series, league rules prohibiting two ladies' days in one series.

Johnson Hearing Postponed.

Chicago, Ill., May 5.—Hearing on motion to dissolve the injunction restraining George H. Johnson, pitcher, who jumped to the Kansas City Federals from the Cincinnati National league ball club, was continued today until May 14. CAPITAL CITY CLUB GOLF TOURNAMENT

The first golf tournament of the 1914 season will start Saturday over the Capital City's course at Brookhaven, when the qualifying round for the E. H. Inman trophy is played.

This being the first handicap tournament of the season, it is expected that a large entry list will play in the qualifying round.

Work has been going on rapidly on the new nine holes of this course, and all of the grading has been completed. Several of the tees have been turfed, and in a few days grass seed will be sown over the entire course. With favorable weather the eighteen-hole course should be ready in the course of the next few weeks.

LOCAL MOTORDROME OPENS SATURDAY

The local motorcycle racing season will be officially ushered in Saturday with race meets at the Motordrome, on Jackson street, Saturday afternoon and night.

The feature event of the afternoon performance will be the Mayor Woodward sweepstakes. The mayor will start this event. At the night performance City Clerk Walter Taylor will start the feature event, which will bear his name.

The riders are rapidly coming to town and tuning up their machines. Those not already here will be on hand this morning and this afternoon, and every afternoon for the remainder of the week the popping of their motors in their tuning up will be heard.

The class of the motorcycle riders of the country will appear at the local track, among them Morty Graves, captain of the riders; Tex Richards, Lawrence Flickanstein, Speck Bruggerman, Henry Lewis, Harry Glenn, Speed Craviston, Roy Shaw, Dave Kenney, Glenn Stokes and Bunt Buchell.

Official programs carrying all the information of the meets will be from the press in a few days. Atlanta is going to be the mecca of the two-wheeled motor speed merchants of the world.

PAT DONAHUE SIGNS WITH THE BILLIES

Montgomery, Ala., May 5.—Patrick Donahue, former catcher for the Boston Americans, signed with the Montgomery baseball club this morning. Donahue is one of the most popular players in the southern circuit, and his friends here will show their appreciation of the arrangement between the local club and Donahue by attending Wednesday's Montgomery-Mobile game in a body. Donahue caught for Montgomery a portion of last season.

Twelve Atlanta Golfers Off for Birmingham Meet

Twelve Atlanta golfers left here yesterday for Birmingham to participate in the opening big golf tournament of the south, the Opening Amateur Golf Tourney of the Roebuck Golf and Automobile club, to be played Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The program is for four flights of sixteen players, sixty-four to qualify in the 18-hole medal play round Thursday. Prizes for the winners and runners-up in each flight and the eight losers in eight flights will be awarded.

The first round of match play is scheduled for Friday morning, the second that afternoon, semi-finals Saturday morning and the finals that afternoon.

H. H. Barker is the professional of the new course. He is one of the best artists in laying off a golf course in the south and many compliments have been passed on the new course.

Stewart Maiden, golf professional of the Atlanta Athletic club, and Willie Mann, golf professional of the Druid Hills Golf club, will be Atlanta's representatives in the professional match.

The amateurs who will participate and represent Atlanta are G. W. Adair, Lowry Arnold, W. R. Tichenor, Clarence Angier, E. T. Winston, Milton Dargan, Milton Dargan, Jr., C. M. Sciples, Clarence Corwin, J. S. Cohen, C. V. Rainwater and Ormond Smith.

Georgia and Tech Meet For the Southern Title

When Georgia and Tech meet at Athens Friday and Saturday and in Atlanta the following Friday and Saturday, the contests will be considered for the southern championship.

Neither team has lost a series of games this season. Incidentally, their percentage of victories won is far in excess of the record any other southern college can boast of this season. Therefore it is logical to consider them the ranking teams of the south, after reviewing the records of the other teams.

Georgia has won 16 games and lost 5, a percentage of .762 for the season. Tech has won 14 and lost 6, a percentage of .700 for the season and against the strongest teams in any section of the south.

Therefore it can be seen plainly that these teams are the class of the south and are entitled to battle for the southern baseball championship.

Last season, Georgia had the best claim and had only to break even or win the majority of games from her old rivals, Tech, to be adjudged the southern champions.

But as is the case, whenever these teams meet in any branch of athletics, the dope was upset and Tech won three out of the four games, spoiling Georgia's championship claims.

The games therefore this season will be more important than ever before in the history of the two schools and if one of the teams wins three out of the four games, they will technically be the southern college champions.

GEORGIA SWEEPS SERIES WITH ALA.

By Clark Howell, Jr.

Athens, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Georgia made a clean sweep of the series with Alabama Tuesday afternoon by winning the last game by the score of 7 to 2.

This is the last game the Red and Black team will play this season, with the exception of the four games with Tech and thus far only one S. I. A. A. defeat has been registered against the Georgian, the one administered by Clemson in the first game of the year.

Both Corley and Smith hurled good ball for their clubs, each allowing five hits. All of the local's hits came in the first and sixth innings, while the visitors connected for three safeties in the second round. But for poor fielding by the Alabamians and startling base running by the locals seven runs could not have been tallied.

Two fast double plays were made from Clements and Harrison to Henderson. In the past several games the work of this trio has rivaled that of the famous Tinker to Evers to Chance combination.

Alabama's two runs came in the second on an error, two singles and a two-bagger. Georgia got four in the first when Ginn singled, Clements and McWhoter walked, and Henderson singled to right, scoring Ginn and Clements. McWhorter and Henderson scored when Hagin errored Holland's fly to center.

The Red and Black annexed two more in the sixth on Henderson's double, Owens' single, Cargyles' error, and Corley's single. Georgia got one more in the eighth when Smith threw Corley's grounder over first, Corley going to second, and scoring when Cargyle put Torbett's bounder over the first baseman's head.

GRAND STAND ERECTED FOR SHRINERS' PARADE

Gordon 7, Dahlonega 4.

Barnesville, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—In the last local game of the season, Gordon defeated Dahlonega by the score of 7 to 4. Maxey relieved Dozier after the first and pitched good ball in all but one inning.

Mize hit a home run in the fifth and nearly duplicated the feat in the eighth. Teasley, for Gordon, hit hard, getting three singles. Gordon plays G. M. C. at Milledgeville next Monday and Tuesday.

KROH IS NOT HERE WITH THE LOOKOUTS

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 5.—(Special.)—Kroh, Chattanooga's star southpaw, was sent home today by Manager McCormick. He is suffering from a strain to his left side incurred during a game here. He will be out of the Atlanta and New Orleans series, leaving the Chattanooga club but four pitchers for the present. Another right-hand pitcher has been bought from Providence and will join the club in a few days. Manager McCormick announced the purchase of Ens, a utility infielder, from Providence. He will join the club at once.

APPEAL IS GRANTED IN KILLIFER'S CASE

Cincinnati, May 5.—Judge Sessions, of the United States circuit court of appeals, announced here today that he had granted an appeal in the Federal baseball league's case relative to Player Killifer, which was decided against it at Grand Rapids several weeks ago.

It also was announced the hearing probably would take place here in the fall.

Catcher Killifer, of the Philadelphia National league team, signed a contract, but decided to play with the Chicago Federal league club. Later he jumped back to the Philadelphia club and the Federal league brought suit in the United States court at Grand Rapids to enjoin him from playing with Philadelphia.

In deciding the case, Judge Sessions denied the application of the Chicago Federal league club for an injunction on the grounds that the Chicago club did not come into court "with clean hands." The reserve clause, however, was held not valid, but Killifer was allowed to return to the Philadelphia Nationals after being severely scored by Judge Sessions.

CAPTAIN AND COACH HAVE BEEN DISMISSED

Chicago, May 5.—MacEmerson McCosh, captain of the Northwestern university baseball team, star of the football team last fall, was dismissed from the university today. The action followed the dismissal yesterday of Coach Dennis Grady after an investigation showed that Grady and McCosh had knowledge that two dental freshmen were in the line-up under assumed names in the games against the University of Minnesota a week ago.

BRITAIN TO TAKE PART IN CANAL EXPOSITION

The Government Will Reconsider Decision Not to Exhibit at San Francisco.

London, May 5.—The British government will reconsider its decision not to participate in the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco and probably will decide that Great Britain shall officially be represented at the fair in a distinctly modified form.

Premier Asquith today received a deputation from the house of commons representing more than half the membership and promised to submit their views to the cabinet.

The suggestion of the deputation was that the British government erect a special governmental pavilion which would serve as a rallying point for British subjects from all parts of the empire. Mr. Asquith intimated that this proposal, which would be in the nature of a complimentary acceptance of the invitation to participate without committing the government to much expenditure, would commend itself to the cabinet ministers.

CHANGES PROPOSED IN LEVER MEASURE

Augusta, Ga., May 5.—Favorable action was taken late today by the national cotton conference on all the resolutions adopted by the executive committee during its two days' session in this city. The resolutions were suggested as tending to improve present conditions, both in the spots and futures cotton trade throughout the country.

Among the resolutions of the executive committee, approved by the entire conference, was one recommending several changes in Representative A. F. Lever's cotton futures bill, now pending in congress. The conference instructed the chairman to forward a copy of the resolutions to Representative Lever. A committee of three, composed of B. Hugee, of Memphis; E. J. Glenny, of New Orleans, and Thomas Barrett, Jr., of Augusta, was appointed to confer personally, if necessary, with Mr. Lever, in Washington, and to assist in having this bill made the law of the land.

International Standard.

Other resolutions, which had previously been adopted by the steering committee, and which were favorably acted upon today by the conference, were a recommendation that all the exchanges adopt the government standard of classifications and that the government adopt the international standard agreed upon at Liverpool last year. The recommendation to have all cotton statistics, receipts, etc., computed from August 1 to August 1, instead of from September 1, also was approved by the conference.

During the afternoon session of the conference, W. C. Lawson, of Waco, called the attention of the organization to what he termed an unfair rule enacted last October by the Bremen cotton exchange. This rule, he stated, allows the receiver in Bremen 100 days to determine the extent of interior damp, after delivery. Several delegates present elaborated on the remarks of Mr. Lawson and later the following resolution was adopted, with instructions that it be presented to the Bremen exchange:

"Resolved, That this convention requests the chairman to convey to the president of the Bremen cotton exchange its strong disapproval of rule 37 B, adopted by the Bremen exchange at its general meeting, October 12, 1913, effective January 1, 1914, because in our opinion this convention thinks the rule unfair to shippers of American cotton, inasmuch as it allows the receiver of the cotton 100 days after delivery in which to determine the extent of the interior damp."

The special committee of three on domestic spot transactions asked extension of time until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to make its report.

Although it had been expected that the convention would end tonight, it was decided to extend the session until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, in order to receive the report of this committee, which will be presented at 10 o'clock.

Consideration of the Lever bill followed the report of the subcommitte of six appointed yesterday by the executive committee to outline a plan of procedure in recommending remedies for the present future contract system. The members of the subcommittee were F. H. Barrett, Augusta; R. K. Cairne, New York; E. J. Glenny, New Orleans; B. Hugee, Memphis; John G. Lonsdale, Little Rock, and E. F. Verdrey, Augusta. The committe recommended that the conference request Representative Lever to make the proposed changes in the bill, but did not ask the conference to go on record as approving the bill. Attention was called to the omission by F. H. Barrett, of Augusta, but the executive committee did not take any action in regard to it.

Pure Cotton Law.

The executive committee adopted a resolution favoring the introduction in congress of a "pure cotton law." The resolution "requests Mr. Lever, or other proper person, to introduce in congress a bill requiring all ginners to tag 'bollies' as such and that they be fined for not so doing."

It was explained that "bollies" was the term applied to cotton ginned in the boll instead of being picked from the boll.

No action was taken by the committee on the resolution introduced yesterday proposing that the "government be requested to use commercial differences as a basis of quotations in all spot markets." The subcommittee to which consideration of this matter had been referred asked for additional time in which to consider it.

Changes Proposed.

Changes suggested by the committee in the Lever bill include a reduction of the tax of 25 cents a contract to five cents a contract. This, it was stated, would make the burden of the tax fall upon the dealer and not the producer.

The committee also desires the application of the bill as set forth in section 3 to be amended so as to apply to any resident "in the United States" instead of "of the United Statse." This, it is understood, is to make the provision applicable to transient traders. It was agreed to request the substitution of the following paragraph for the fifth paragraph of section 5 of the bill:

"Provided that cotton of perishable staple or cotton that is gin-cut, or cotton which, by reason of faults of packing or handling, is not readily merchantable, or because of the presence of extraneous matter of any character or collateral irregularities, or defects is reduced more than one grade in value, or cotton that is a grade lower than good ordinary or stained cotton that is below the grade of middling or tinged cotton that is below the grade of low middling, or cotton that is less than three-fourths of one inch in staple, shall not be delivered on under, or in settlement of, such contract."

The committee agreed to request he widening of the scope of the sixth section of the Lever bill regarding tenders of cotton under contract.

It is also agreed that section 8 of the bill, determining what are bona fide spot markets, under standards established by the secretary of agriculture, should be changed in the provision for the selection of places to determine the correctness of quotations by striking out all the provision in that section and substituting the following:

Rain Needed in South.

Thomasville, Ga., May 5.—(Special.) Although the recent protracted dry weather has done no serious damage as yet to the crops in this county a continuance of it will soon begin to show injurious effects. Some farmers complain that their oats are beginning to be damaged, but as a rule this amounts to very little.

3 Georgians Are Mentioned For Election as Bishops

By Rev. W. A. Brooks.

Oklahoma City, Okla., May 5.—(Special.)—No little interest is being centered on the number of bishops that will be elected at the session of the general conference of the Methodist Epicopal Church, South, which meets here tomorrow, the number being variously estimated from none to five or six. It may be conservatively stated, however, that at least three or four bishops will be chosen by the great legislative body of the Methodist Epicopal Church, South.

The names of three well-known Georgia divines are being prominently mentioned in this connection: Rev. W. N. Ainsworth, D. D., pastor of Mulberry street, Macon; Rev. H. M. DuBose, D. D., pastor the First Methodist church, Atlanta; Rev. James E. Dickey, D. D. president of Emory college, Oxford. Any or all of these distinguished divines would grace well the espiscopacy. All were strongly supported at the last session of the general conference in Asheville, N. C., in 1910.

Must Pull Together.

But it is a forgone conclusion that only one Georgian will be elected to the episcopacy, this year, and he only through the unanimous support of the north and south Georgia delegation. It is a patent fact that the Georgia delegations could have, at the last session of the conference, agreed upon the combined support of one of their favorites and effected his election to the episcopacy. Whether the Georgia delegations will thus act in unison, this year, as do some of the western conferences, remains to be seen. It can be readily seen that if the support from one's own state is not strong and practically unanimous, it is difficult for the church at large, through her chosen representatives, to be impressed and inspired with his mental and moral worth, however great these may be.

State Has Bishop Timber.

That Georgia has some "bishop timber" that is certainly the peer, if not the pre-eminence, of any from Maryland to California or from Washington state to Florida, or from Missouri to the Gulf of Mexico, is generally recognized throughout the bounds of southern Methodism; but it remains to be seen what will transpire.

GENTRY IS PRESIDENT OF CAPITAL CITY CLUB

The Capital City club, one of Atlanta's most exclusive organizations, last night elected W. T. Gentry to the presidency. Mr. Gentry was elected without opposition.

Other officers elected were E. H. Inman, vice president; E. R. Austin, secretary and treasurer, and Frank B. Holland, Julian McGill and Edwin F. Johnson, members of the governing board.

The election was spirited and provoked more interest than any contests held in years. The only places contested for were vice president and members of the board.

The total vote cast was 491.

Mr. Gentry is president of the Southern Bell Telephone company and is one of the most popular clubmen in Atlanta. He has been always prominently identified with the Capital City club, and has been active and aggressive in all matters pertaining to its welfare.

Mr. Inman is also prominent in club circles, and has been to the fore of activity in the club to which he has been elected vice president.

NAME THREE EXECUTORS FOR THE RYAN ESTATE

The will of Mrs. Isabella Ryan was filed with Ordinary Wilkinson Monday afternoon and names three of her sons, Charles L., A. J. and R. A. Ryan sole executors of the large estate. It was dated December 17, 1909.

The executors are directed to sell the Ryan home at 190 Whitehall street, where the family has resided for years. Of the net proceeds, $10,000 is bequeathed to Miss Ida Alice Ryan, a daughter; $1,000 to Miss Edith Ryan, a granddaughter, and $3,000 is left to John F. Ryan, a fourth son. In making this latter bequest the will states that it is nominal because the son had already received a large portion of his late father's estate.

It is directed that the carriage horses, furniture, silverware and crockery be turned over to Miss Ida Ryan. The remainder of the property is left to the three executors and their two sisters, Mrs. Mary Rosaline Ryan-Kuhrt and Miss Ida Alice Ryan share and share allke.

WIFE-BEATERS FINED AND GIVEN LECTURES

Judge Nash Broyles besides heavily fining two alleged wife-beaters in police court Tuesday afternoon took occasion to deliver a lecture to the two husbands, and pointed out the proper way for a husband to deal with his wife was through love, and not through violence.

Walter B. Milam, a telegraph operator, living at No. 80 Walton street, was fined $100.75 for mistreating his pretty little wife on Monday night, and was bound over under bond of $500 for wife-beating, and assaulting C. W. McDonald when he attempted to protect Mrs. Milam from her husband.

J. R. Statham, a steam fitter, living at No. 336 Cooper street, who was arrested Monday night about the same time that Milam was put under arrest, and for the same offense, was fined $10.75. Judge Broyles making the fine light because of Mrs. Statham's plea.

BARBER SHOPS TO OPEN SUNDAY FOR SHRINERS

Upon the request of Forrest Adair, chairman of the Shriners' committee, that the barber shops be allowed to remain open on next Sunday to wait on the several thousand Shriners who will journey to this city, arriving here Sunday, Mayor James G. Woodward recided to let the visitors get a "shave and a shine," and issued instructions to police chief, James L. Beavers, to such effect.

The mayor restricted the business to be done by the barber shops and baths of the city to the visitors, claiming that the residents must avail themselves of the delights of a shave and a bath as usual on Saturday night.

SEVEN-PASSENGER CAR STOLEN MONDAY EVENING

A seven-passenger locomobile, costing $6,000, was stolen Monday evening from Virgil Collier, who left the car standing in front of the Winecoff hotel.

The theft has been reported to the police and the city detectives are making every possible effort to find the thief and the car.

The car bore the state license number 3,119, and the factory number, 6,775.

Mr. Collier says he had been in the hotel only a short while when he found his car gone.

B. P. COLLIER ELECTED SHERIFF OF JACKSON

Jefferson, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—The Jackson county primary held today for the selection of county officers was unusually quiet, with a good vote polled. B. P. Collier was nominated sheriff and W. T. Appleby tax collector by a small majority; George E. Smith, treasurer; N. B. Lord, clerk of superior court, and Obie Hawks, tax receiver. Jim Wood, coroner, had no opposition.

HOLMES IS ELECTED MAYOR BY SPARTANS

Sparta, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—In an election for mayor and alderman, held here yesterday, Robert Holmes was elected mayor, and W. H. Britt, George P. Burdick, J. D. Burnett and Benjamin Ohlman were elected alderman. Mr. Holmes is president of the Bank of Sparta and vice president of the Walker Financing and Securities company

SLATON SETS ASIDE SUNDAY, MAY 10TH, AS MOTHERS' DAY

State of Georgia, Executive Department, May 5, 1914.

A PROCLAMATION.

There is one obligation which we can never hope to pay. That is the debt we owe to the mothers who bore us. The price they freely gave that we might live, their tender nurture of our infancy and wachful guardianship of our childhood and later years passes the power of thoughts to measure or of words to express. But though we cannot hope to repay, we can, at least, revere. It is fitting then that we should set apart one day in the year to offer our vows at the holy altar of motherhood.

Therefore, I, John M. Slaton, governor of the state of Georgia, do hereby designate Sunday, May 10, 1914, to be observed as Mother's day.

Let each of us, who is blessed with a living mother, testify to her on that day by written or by spoken word or by some other appropriate token his tender appreciation of her love and care; let us lay a garland on the graves of the mothers who are gone as an offering of affectionate remembrance; and let us each wear the white flower as an emblem of the simplicity, the purity and selflessness of mother's devotion.

(Signed) JOHN M. SLATON, Governor.

(Signed) T. B. CONNER, Executive Secretary.

PAST GRAND MASTERS CONFER THIRD DEGREE

The public may be trusted to find the greatest value for its dollars.

It's simply a matter of comparison, and a majority of buyers evidently know what constitutes real value in axles, bearings, power and capacity, as well as what is best in lighting and starting systems, and other mechanical details.

To superiority in these essentials, based both on quality and price, Studebaker—through its Detroit Branch—adds a service to its owners that is without an equal in this city.

SENATORIAL FIGHT IN WARE CO. OPENED BY THOS. HARDWICK

Waycross, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Congressman Thomas W. Hardwick today fired the opening gun of the short term senatorial contest in Waycross before a crowd of Ware voters.

He was introduced by W. W. Lambdin and after referring to his record as a congressman, declared that while he was working for the people's interest his two opponents, Governor Slaton and Tom Felder, were taking life easy, one in a Peachtree street mansion, the other in a law office in Washington.

He said he couldn't discuss Felder's record at length because Felder did not have much of any record.

His remarks about Slaton were mostly made to show that Slaton had opposed the movement of which he has been a staunch backer.

He said that when Slaton was president of the senate he opposed Hoke Smith's quitting the governor's office, and doing the very thing Slaton is now figuring on doing.

COCHRAN VISITING FRIENDS IN MACON

Macon, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Ralph O. Cochran, of Atlanta, candidate for the long term senatorship to succeed United States Senator Hoke Smith, arrived in Macon this afternoon on a visit of handshaking and "politickin'."

He met numerous of his friends here and spent the entire afternoon talking of his campaign and his prospects.

Mr. Cochran stated that he is running strictly on the ticket of a business man.

"I am opposed to any policy of government," he said, "characterized by 'isms' and reforms that produce unsettled financial conditions. We are tired of bankruptcies and financial disasters."

"OLD BRIGADES" AGAIN IN REUNION

Veterans Who Fought for the Confederacy Flocking to Jacksonville—First Parade Will Be Held Today.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 5.—Survivors who wore the gray in the war between the states gathered by the thousands in Jacksonville tonight preparatory to the opening of the twenty-fourth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans here tomorrow.

Housed in the tents of Camp Kirby-Smith, the veterans recalled again the stories of Chickamauga and Missionary Ridge, of Gettysburg and the Wilderness and a score of other battlefields of the conflict between the north and the south.

Two allied organizations held meetings today and tonight. The Confederate Southern Memorial association met this afternoon and the Sons of Confederate Veterans held its first meeting tonight. Neither organization transacted business of importance.

General Young Arrives.

The arrival early this morning of General Bennett H. Young, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, was the chief event of interest preliminary to the actual opening exercises attendant upon the annual reunion of the Confederate veterans, which will be held here Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week.

Park Trammell, governor of Florida, and Van C. Swearingen, mayor of Jacksonville, formally will welcome the veterans at their first meeting tomorrow.

The First Parade.

The first parade of the reunion will be held tomorrow afternoon and will include the sponsors and maids of honor from the various southern states who were sent here as a tribute of honor to the veterans. A parade of the Sons of Confederate Veterans will be held Thursday and on Friday the veterans' parade will be held.

Alabama's division of the veterans will return to the state of Ohio tomorrow night a battle flag which was captured from one of Ohio's regiments in the historic conflict. Governor Cox, of Ohio, will accept the return of the colors. Various divisional meetings and social events also are scheduled for tomorrow.

One of the largest delegations to arrive today for the reunion was from Memphis, Tenn. The latter city is seeking the 1915 meeting of the veterans in gray. The Oklahoma delegation also arrived late today.

Selection of next year's meeting place and election of officers for the coming year will be made by the veterans on Thursday.

A. A. WILLETT CELEBRATES HUNDREDTH BIRTHDAY

Americus, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—A. A. Willett, Americus' oldest citizen, today celebrated his one hundredth birthday inniversary. Mr. Willett has resided seventy-five years in Americus and is highly esteemed. Despite his advanced years, he frequently takes a two-mile walk and looks personally after his farm and vineyards.

Parcel Post to Greece.

Washington, May 5.—A parcel post system between the United States and Greece is to become effective next Saturday. Twelve cents a pounds is the rate from the United States. Packages must not weigh more than eleven pounds.

WILSON IS SEEKING BANKING GOVERNOR

Secretary Houston May Be Selected for Post Declined by Richard Olney.

Washington, May 5.—President Wilson again is searching for a governor for the federal reserve board. After four months of painstaking inquiry, he had determined on Richard Olney, former secretary of state, as head of the board which will regulate the nation's system of twelve regional banks, but Mr. Olney declined, unwilling, at his advanced age, to undertake new responsibilities.

Many administration officials believe Secretary Houston, of the department of agriculture, may be the man finally chosen in Mr. Olney's place. It is an open secret that the president has wanted to appoint Mr. Houston to the federal reserve board, but did not wish to make changes in his cabinet. Mr. Houston favorably impressed many when he toured the country as a member of the organization committee of the federal reserve board, and his name was suggested for the board then.

It is known since Mr. Olney's declination the president has not fixed on anyone. He is said to be anxious to get a New England man so that all sections may be represented. Colonel William A. Gaston and Joseph O'Neall, both prominent Boston bankers, have been suggested as possibilities, but it is believed the president will choose a business man with legal training. The other four members of the board selected by the president are:

Paul M. Warburg, New York; Dr. Adolph Caspar Miller, San Francisco; Harry A. Wheeler, Chicago; W. P. G. Harding, Birmingham, Ala.

ETHEL LORRAINE WINS HER SEPARATION SUIT

Young Belmont Must Pay Her $100 Month—How She Spent Belmont's Money.

New York, May 5.—Ethel Lorraine Belmont today won her separation suit against Raymond Belmont, son of the financier, August Belmont. One hundred dollars a month alimony was allowed.

Belmont is abroad. His wife formerly passed as an actress, but she never had been on the stage.

"In his opinion granting Mrs. Belmont a decree, Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum commented on the "gilded youth of the great city." Alluding to young Belmont, the court said:

"His career of idleness, stimulated by the plaintiff, has not been conducive to a healthy preparation for the serious problems of life."

In fixing the amount of the alimony, Justice Greenbaum alluded to testimony to the effect that August Belmont cut off his son's allowance of $3,000 a year on learning of the marriage and that Raymond Belmont left his father's employ, giving up a salary of $900 a year.

When Raymond Belmont became of age in 1910, according to the opinion, he had a fortune of $143,284. In three years he spent $73,000, "almost constantly in the company of the plaintiff," the opinion finds, besides giving about $30,000 in cash to the plaintiff." The money, said the court, "was spent in a life of pleasure and reckless squanderings," and the fortune has sunk to about $14,300, which brings an income of about $2,000 a year. The alimony is calculated on that income and an earning capacity of $900 a year.

WHISKY DRUMMER FINED FOR SALE IN AMERICUS

Americus, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—John J. Stine, traveling representative for a Kentucky liquor company, pleaded guilty this afternoon to having violated the prohibition laws and paid a fine of $350 assessed. Stine is a well known drummer, and while here booked an order for a barrel of whisky for a stool pigeon, who immediately turned the receipt over to a policeman waiting outside. Stine paid without protest.

SHERIFF W. G. DUNEHOO RELEASED FROM JAIL

Rome, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Sheriff W. G. Dunehoo was yesterday released from the county jail under bond for $10,000 on a charge of assault with intent to murder. The charge was brought against him because of his shooting Deputy Sheriff G. W. Smith in a row over political matters. Deputy Smith is considered out of danger now.

BAKER DENIED RETRIAL OF CHARGE OF MURDER

Rome, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Judge Moses Wright yesterday denied motion for a new trial in the case of W. C. Baker, convicted of the murder of Ernest R. Lamb at the last term of court and sentenced to life imprisonment. Baker's attorneys will carry the case to the supreme court in an effort to obtain a new trial.

HOOKWORM CAMPAIGN COMPLETED IN DECATUR

Bainbridge, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—After seven weeks' efficient work, Dr. A. W. Wood, of the state board of health, left yesterday for Cairo in Grady county. In Decatur 2,731 examinations were made for hookworm and 2,035 found to be infected. In the rural schools, the percentage was very high. Out of 1,188 children examined, 1,180 were found to be afflicted with the disease.

In addition to the medical attention, Dr. Wood and assistants gave lectures on sanitation in the schools, and did much good.

CHOIR OF ALL SAINTS' WILL ASSIST ORGANIST

The vested choir of All Saints' church, composed of more than fifty of Atlanta's best singers, will assist Arthur Kraft, the city organist, at a recital at the Auditorium early in May. This will be the first appearance of any church choir at the Sunday afternoon recitals. The choir will appear in vestments, and will sing sacred selections. William E. Arnaud, the choir master, will direct.

EXPLOSION AT PANAMA; EIGHT PERSONS KILLED

Panama, May 5.—An explosion this morning at the government of Panama dynamite magazine resulted in the killing of eight persons. Nineteen others were seriously injured. The property was damaged.

The explosion was caused by a brush fire which made its way to the interior of the building. Six of the dead and most of the wounded are firemen who had been summoned to combat the flames. A man and a woman who were watching the blaze from a distance were torn to pieces.

The concussion shook Panama. In addition to obliterating the magazine the explosion caused considerable property damage in the neighborhood.

W. S. KINCADE STRUCK BY SOUTHERN TRAIN

Dallas, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Train No. 5, northbound, on the Southern road, struck and seriously injured W. S. Kincade at a crossing just south of Dallas about 6:40 o'clock this evening. Dr. Hitchcock carried the injured man to an Atlanta hospital. Mr. Kincade is seriously if not fatally injured.

LIFEBOATS SAVE CREW FROM BLAZING TUGBOAT

Brunswick, Ga., May 5.—While crossing St. Andrews sound yesterday in an effort to render assistance to the steamer Atlantic, which was disabled, the tug Telephone caught fire and was almost totally destroyed, burning for several hours and finally drifting out to sea. The crew escaped in lifeboats.

The tug was valued at $8,000, covered by insurance. The Atlantic was towed into port by the tug Rambler.

H. A. PEACOCK ELECTED TO GA. LEGISLATURE

Albany, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Herbert A. Peacock, a prominent young member of the Albany bar, was today elected without opposition to serve out the unexpired term of the late C. M. Clark, representative of Dougherty county in the legislature. Mr. Peacock is chairman of the county democratic executive committee, but was never before a candidate for office.

STRIKERS ARE URGED TO SURRENDER ARMS

Labor Leaders and Army Officers Put Matter Up to the Colorado Miners.

Trinidad, Col., May 5.—The question of delivering the arms of striking coal miners to the United States army will be put up to the men themselves, according to announcement by union officials here tonight. The announcement came at the end of a conference between William Diamond and Robert G. Bolton, strike leaders; Colonel James Lockett and Major W. A. Holbrook.

Diamond said union leaders would urge the strikers to comply with the proclamation of the president and secretary of war and turn their guns over to the army officers.

Union leaders announced that a mass meeting would be held in the San Rafael tent colony, at Sparksville, tomorrow. These meetings will be held by union officers and by Major Holbrook and by other officers of the army. The demand of the secretary of war for the surrender of arms will be explained to the strikers in their languages, and they will be urged to deliver up their arms.

Major Holbrook said, after the conference, that the union officers had promised to use their influence to get the strikers to comply with the requests of the government. Colonel Lockett declined to say what measures he would take if the men failed to turn in the guns. Many of the arms of the mine guards are in possession of United States troops.

To Pay War Expenses.

Denver, Col., May 5.—First steps were taken today by the Colorado legislature to pay the expenses of the seven months of industrial warfare in the state and to prevent any future outbreak.

Three identical measures were introduced in the house and senate to provide a constitutional amendment, giving the legislature authority to enact a compulsory arbitration act, and laws giving the governor authority to close saloons and regulate the sale or purchase of firearms in times of internal disorders.

In addition, a bill to establish a state police force was offered in the senate and a measure for a bond issue to pay the militia and the expenses of the military campaign was introduced in the house.

SWEEPING VICTORY BY ANTI-BLEASE MEN

Columbia, S. C., May. 5.—First test of strength between Governor Cole L. Blease and United States Senator E. D. Smith, candidate for the United States senate at the forthcoming state primary, was furnished yesterday by the democratic conventions held in every county of the state. Latest reports from the convention indicate that the anti-Blease forces won a sweeping victory and will send practically 300 delegates to the state convention to be held in Columbia May 20, while less than thirty Blease delegates were elected.

Senator Smith was elected a delegate to the state convention from Lee county, while Newberry county, the home of Governor Blease and Fred H. Dominick, assistant attorney general, gave neither a place in the representation.

The question of primary reform will be given consideration at the state convention, according to resolutions passed in many of the conventions. About half of the counties approved the policies of the national administration.

LEPER IS DEPORTED BY CHICAGO OFFICIALS

Chicago, May 5.—Chicago and Cook county authorities congratulated themselves today over the successful deportation of Charles Wolgren, a native of Sweden, who was taken to the county hospital in February suffering from what was diagnosed as leprosy.

Because of the fear which the disease engenders all details of the deportation were kept secret and none but the crew of the train on which Wolgren rode in a private ar knew of his presence aboard.

Special permits were secretly issued by governors of states across which the train passed and all connected with the deportation breathed easier when word was received here today that Wolgren was safely aboard a liner due to leave for Sweden in a few hours.

Chalmers "Porosknit" Guaranteed Means—Coolness—Comfort—Quality

Read why Chalmers "Porosknit" is so comfortable—so much for the money. Read of the Ideal behind "Porosknit's" manufacture and guarantee. Then judge if imitations will content you.

CHALMERS "Porosknit" has many imitations. But who can duplicate "Porosknit" comfort, durability, quality of yarn, elasticity, lightness, coolness?

Underwear can be made to look something like Chalmers "Porosknit." But the "look" is all. None may match the genuine in its real features.

The "Hidden" Quality

We have been told that the yarn in "Porosknit" is better than it need be. That we could use less costly combed yarn. That we could pocket thousands of extra dollars each year.

True. We might.

The same careful workmanship could be employed in finishing such less-good yarn—and Chalmers "Porosknit" would still look about the same.

Examine any Chalmers "Porosknit" Union Suit. Turn it inside out. Notice how strongly the seams are reinforced. Observe the triangular piece in the back. See how the stretch is opposite to the rest. This means full elasticity to the seat. It gives —at every turn or bend.

There can be no "cutting in the crotch." Our Closed Crotch is comfortable. It fits. It stays put.

"Porosknit" is made in all styles—for man, for boy.

COTTON DECLINES ON WEATHER NEWS

Prospects for Better Conditions in Southwest and July Liquidation Are Causes of Sharp Decline.

New York, May 5.—Prospects for better weather in the southwest and July liquidation attributed to some of the more prominent local interests, seemed responsible for quite a sharp decline in today's cotton market. General business was not active, and the failure of the bullish weekly weather report to inspire any fresh buying probably encouraged local selling in the late trading. The close was steady, but within a point or two of the lowest at a net decline of 5 to 10 points.

Private cables attributed the relatively firm showing of Liverpool to American and continental buying on unfavorable crop accounts and the local market opened steady at an advance of 3 to 6 points on over-night buying orders. There was a good deal of realizing at the initial figures, however, and the market soon turned easier. Buying here by houses with Liverpool connections helped to steady the early market on comparatively moderate reactions, but after the close abroad this support was withdrawn and the low point was reached in the late trading when July sold at 12.15, or 12 points net lower, and 51 points below the recent high level. Brokers supposed to be operating for one of the larger local houses were heavy sellers of July against purchases of new crop months and this selling may have been partly accountable for renewed rumors that the cotton taken up on May notices would not be shipped out of the local stock, but would probably be retendered, should there be any further increase in the May premium over July. When the first May notices were issued May and July contracts were selling on nearly even terms, while at the close today May showed a premium of about thirty points. There were further reports from the southwest indicating storm damage and a necessity for replanting, but not many complaints were received from east of the river and the outlook for clearing weather in the southwest appeared to offset both private damage reports and the unfavorable features of the official weather review.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, May 5.—The cotton market today was subjected to conflicting influences that finally resulted in net declines of 6 points on September and 1 to 3 points on all other months, save August, which was 2 points up.

At the outset prices evinced a tendency to advance, but the early encouragement offered buyers by Liverpool's upward trend and New York's responsive opening was lost in the fact that clearing skies in the western belt held out a promise of crop recovery where it was most needed, and operators on the short side of the market took adavantage of that fact.

A counter influence toward the end of the day was the development of astronger spot demand, and an advance of ⅛c in middling, which had the effect of inducing a very steady contract market at the close.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 5.—(Special.)—Cables this morning were better than due, but our market made a disappointing showing at the opening and was under pressure immediately thereafter owing to clearing weather in Texas and a movement of the rains towards the eastern belt where they would be most beneficial. Predictions of fair weather in the western belt for tomorrow also had their effect in easing prices slowly despite the widespread feeling in local circles that the new crop months should be purchased on the declines. We are inclined to the view as stated yesterday that this depends largely upon the weather. There might, in the present attitude of business, result considerable pressure on the market with three or four weeks of good weather.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, May 5.—(Special.)—Although further heavy rains fell in the past twenty-four hours in parts of Texas and the gulf states, buying here showed no tendency to increase. At the opening prices advanced slightly, but later on declined under miscellaneous selling which was encouraged by prospects of clearing weather over tomorrow. The weekly weather report complained of too much rain and cool weather for the rapid progress of crops in the western states and stated that the Carolinas and Georgia were in need of rain.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, May 5.—(Special.)—Liverpool was better than due today and the local market opened 3 to 6 up. There was a great deal of July for sale, however, and the weakness of July affected the entire market. July closed 10 down, and the new crop months 6 down. The weather reports were not good enough to have justified any decline in new crop months had nears been steady. The foreign markets held remarkably well. Liverpool is due to come 1½ to 3½ down.

Coffee was allowed to take care of itself today and promptly broke about 10 points.

WEAKNESS SHOWN IN WHEAT MARKET

Fine Conditions for Growth and Absence of Export Demand Cause Decline—Other Articles Gain.

Chicago, May 5.—Despite a strong front at the outset, wheat today gradually weakened on account of fine conditions for growth and because of entire absence of export demand. The market closed heavy at the same as last night to ½@⅝c lower.

Other speculative articles all had a new gain, corn ½@⅞c; oats ⅛c to ⅜@½c, and provisions a shade to 5c.

Interest in all else proved secondary to the great harvest promise for winter wheat. According to a leading expert, insect damage virtually has been eliminated as a probable source of danger to the crop, and there only remains as perils the chance of rust, a sudden freeze, or later hot winds, too much rain or the thick stand. Pit traders seized on this opinion as basis for selling pressure, and found that buying power had nearly vanished for the time being, especially as far as the general public was concerned and also in regard to purchases for Europe.

Rough weather, which may set back spring seeding to a hazardous extent in sections where the work has not been concluded, brought some support to wheat in the first part of the session. Predictions of widespread frost counted for a while, too, in favor of the bulls, and so also did higher cables.

Fear that there would not be generous arrivals of Argentine corn until late June or July gave corn prices a strong upward bent throughout the day. Further storms in Argentina and reports that southern American dealers were endeavoring to buy back corn sold for shipment up to Maq 20, made shorts here anxious.

Improved shipping demand helped cause the oats market to climb. Besides, it was estimated that the acreage in the leading states had decreased 3.25 per cent.

Provisions ranged slightly higher with hogs and corn. Trade, however, was the smallest recorded in months.

CHANGES WERE FEW IN STOCK MARKET

Speculation Slow and Irresolute--Quotations Rose and Fell Alternately Within a Narrow Range.

Ney York, May 5.—Speculation today was slow and irresolute. The confidence with which prices were bid up on the recent rise was missing. Outside buying fell off greatly, and professional traders shaded from one side of the market to the other, with the result that quotations alternately rose and fell within a narrow range. Net changes were unimportant.

The market's hesitation reflected the attitude of traders who considered the outlook too uncertain to permit of entering upon heavy commitments. The improvement in Mexican affairs brought by mediation appeared to have been discounted in the rise of last week, and there was no disposition to push the advance further pending this settlement. In none of the other factors bearing upon the speculative situation was there any important change, and the market drifted idly through most of the session.

London prices were barely changed, and foreign representatives did little here. Perhaps 5,000 shares were sold for London. This selling, together with realizing sales, sent prices lower at the outset. The Hill shares led the decline, Northern Pacific losing 2 points on the report that a new bond issue of the stock was to be put out. The report met with prompt denial, followed by a recovery in the stock. Missouri Pacific made a temporary showing of strength, owing to the expectation of an early announcement of new financial backing for the road, but it sold down in the last hour, after it became known that no definite action had been taken by the directors at today's meeting. The whole list eased off in the late dealings, after various shares had made net gains of a point or more, and last prices were near the day's lowest.

Further cuts in crude oil prices and reductions in dividends by pipe line companies caused a tumble in oil stocks on the curb. In some cases the declines ran to 20 points or more.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $2,300,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

IMPROVEMENT SHOWN BY LILLIAN NORDICA

Batavia, Java, May 5.—Madame Lillian Nordica, the operatic singer who has been seriously ill here for several weeks, showed slight improvement today.

Madame Nordica was shipwrecked near Thursday island last December and her experiences resulted in nervous prostration which developed into pneumonia. Early in April she went to Batavia and recent dispatches have described her condition as very grave.

FARMING EXPERTS TO MAKE ADDRESSES AT GRIFFIN TODAY

Griffin, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Hundreds of farmers in this county are interested in the general farmers' meeting, to be held tomorrow at the county farm, when a half dozen of the state's leading agriculturists will be present and make addresses and demonstrations of modern and scientific farming methods.

The meeting scheduled for tomorrow is the third of a series being held in different parts of the county. The two former occasions proved vedy successful, and have been a stimulus to the farming element of this section of the state. Increasing interest in the gatherings indicates that the meeting of Wednesday will be attended by possibly 300 farmers. This meeting is given under the auspices of the county commissioners, who will be hosts of the occasion. A barbecue dinner will be served.

Prominent agriculturists who have promised to be present are Colonel J. D. Price, state commissioner of agriculture; Professor Andrew J. Soule, of the State College of Agriculture; Professor R. J. H. DeLoach, director of the state experiment station; H. P. Stuckey, horticulturist at the state experiment station; H. P. Lykes, agriculturist of the Southern railway; J. F. Jackson, agriculturist of the Central railway, and Colonel R. J. Redding, former director of the state experiment farm, and leading writer on farming topics in Georgia.

GOVERNOR TO ADDRESS ROME MASONS TONIGHT

Rome, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Governor John M. Slaton will be the guest of honor of the Seventh Congressional District Masons tomorrow. The governor will be the principal speaker at a public demonstration at the opera house Wednesday night. The district convention will be in session two days and will be attended by delegates from the thirteen counties of the Seventh congressional district. Other speakers at the public demonstration include former Grand Master Henry Banks, Mrs. Rose M. Ashby, of the Eastern Star, Commissioner of Agriculture J. D. Price and several Romans.

ALL OLD OFFICIALS RE-ELECTED IN BURKE

Waynesboro, Ga., May 5.—(Special.) In the county primary held today for county offices, all of the old officials were re-elected. In the race for clerk the vote was very close, the present incumbent, W. M. Fulcher, winning by about 30 votes over his opponent, T. F. Buxton. In the sheriff's race, which was very exciting, the present sheriff, S. G. Story, won by about 140 votes. In the race for tax receiver between G. W. Graham, present official, and R. N. Hatcher, Graham won by a good majority.

OFFICERS ELECTED IN OCONEE COUNTY

Athens, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Oconee county yesterday named the following county officers in the primary: L. F. Johnson, editor of The Oconee County Enterprise at Watkinsville, treasurer, defeating the incumbent, E. J. Crowley; C. A. Duggan, tax collector, re-elected; tax receiver, R. Lee Malcolm; and the following without opposition: Clerk, J. W. Athon; sheriff, C. T. Maxey; surveyor, R. E. Hardigree; and coroner, Sam Fielding.

Fast Freight Derailed.

Rome, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—A caboose and three cars of fast freight No. 84, southbound from Chattanooga to Atlanta, were derailed at an early hour this morning about five miles north of Sugar Valley. According to reports from the railway office, no one was hurt. Wrecking crews from Atlanta and Chattanooga were hurried to the scene and the track was cleared for traffic today.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

With the exception of a very encouraging increase in building figures at the building inspector's office, the realty market has remained comparatively quiet since the advent of grand opera week. Grady bond issue and the county elections kept the attention of realty men and business men generally pretty well engaged on Tuesday, and, with the prospects of Shriner week upon the city, together with the activities preparatory to the arrival of the Shriners, there is no great awakening of the market anticipated until after the Shriners' convention.

There are, however, several deals in the contract stage, which will probably be closed this week. One of these is on Whitehall street and another is on Luckie. One or two of the others consist of semi-central property.

Real Estate Sales.

Two realty sales became public on Tuesday, one of these being by a private agency, and the other being a legal sale before the court house door.

John S. Scott has sold for Mrs. L. L. Ferris to a client, a two-story brick apartment house on a lot 50x100, on West Tenth street, between West Peachtree and Spring streets, for $12,000.

Before the court house door Tuesday morning was sold at auction a parcel, 40x150, at Ashby street and Bellewood avenue, for $2,700. The property belonged to the Dr. G. Y. Pierce estate.

A Gay and Copious Widow.

We met also Mrs. Mullet, of Sioux City, a gay and copious widow of middle age, who appeared in the ship's concert with dark eyes well underscored to give them proper emphasis. She was a well-favored, sentimental lady with thick, wavy, brown hair. Her thoughts were also a bit wavy, but Betsey formed a high opinion of her. Mrs. Mullet was a neat dresser and resembled a fashion plate. Her talk was well dressed in English accents. She often looked thoughtfully at my chin when we talked together, as if she were estimating its value as a site for a stand of whiskers.

LEGAL NOTICES.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF GEORGIA, ALBANY DIVISION.

Note is hereby given that the Trustee in the above stated cause has filed with the undersigned his application for leave to sell the following assets of said bankrupt, consisting of the following, to wit:

Lot of land No. 250 in the 17th District of Fulton county, Georgia, and more fully described as lots 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, 11 and 13, in Hollywood cemetery, Atlanta, Georgia, in block eleven (11) of said plat.

Also the notes and accounts of said bankrupt at such time as may be hereafter found expedient.

It is ordered that the trustee sell said realty at public sale on the 9th day of May, 1914, between the legal hours of sale, before the courthouse door in Fulton county, Georgia, after the same has been advertised once a week for two weeks in the official gazette of Fulton county, Georgia, said advertisements to appear in separate editions, and said sale to be for cash, subject to confirmation by Referee in Bankruptcy, unless objections filed to said sale. Ten per cent in cash to be deposited with trustee at time of said sale. Should said sale not be confirmed trustee will thereafter sell same at either public or private sale, subject to the instructions of this court. Let objections, if any, be filed with the undersigned by 8 o'clock a. m. May 9, 1914.

Witness my hand and done at Albany, Ga., this 28th day of April, 1914.

R. J. BACON, Referee in Bankruptcy.

WOULD YOU MAKE MONEY?

IF YOU WANT TO KNOW where the greatest amount of real estate will change hands at a profit around Atlanta in the next ten years, I want to tell you that I believe it will be on Stone Mountain car line. There is a reason—many of them; the lay of the country is fine; the views are magnificent; it has an altitude running 20 to 50 feet higher than Atlanta; it is the section through which the greatest number of different people will pass, many thousands going every week to see one of nature's greatest wonders—the largest solid rock in the world; more people ride the Georgia Road leading out from Atlanta than any other; more autos go the granite highway than any other. All these things point to a rapid enhancement in values. Now I have made a careful study of the conditions on this line and have secured many choice pieces of acreage in different size tracts and prices, which I know are good buys. Won't you let us mail you a list, or better still, come in and talk with us about it?

ATLANTA IS SEEKING AIR BRAKE MEETING

Detroit, Mich., May 5.—(Special.)—The twenty-first annual convention of the Air Brake association was called to order Tuesday morning by President Hatch. A welcome address was delivered by Mayor O'Hear B. Marx. The annual address was made by President Hatch. The presentation of gold medals proved a feature at the morning session.

Robert Burgess, of the Westinghouse company, Atlanta, who was the first president of the association, is doing everything possible with the assistance of Fred Houser of the Atlanta convention bureau to bring the next convention to the Gate City. Five hundred of the six hundred delegates here are boosting for Atlanta. The next convention city, however, is decided by the executive committee.

Mr. Houser appeared before this body Monday night and delivered invitations from Governor Slaton, Mayor Woodward and others. Sixteen cities are bidding for the next convention. Leading officials told Mr. Houser Tuesday it would be between Atlanta and Chicago and a delegation would be sent to Atlanta within the next sixty days.

Ladies of the party enjoyed an automobile party Tuesday afternoon while the entire convention witnessed a special vaudeville performance Tuesday night. Other entertainment features are the annual ball Wednesday night, steamboat ride Thursday afternoon, and a theater party Thursday night.

California Shriners are in evidence everywhere today. They arrived at noon in four special trains from Chicago, the Los Angeles special making the run in an hour faster time than the famous Wolverine special. They were entertained by a luncheon, automobile ride and banquet. They left at midnight for Buffalo, where H. N. Dutton, formerly of Atlanta, now of the Statler, will entertain them at lunch tomorrow. "Atlanta next" buttons and convention and bureau song books were given to all by Harry Anderson and Houser. Everyone is being initiated in the "On to Atlanta" stunt.

HENSON LOSES AUTO AT BASEBALL GAME

C. A. Henson, who conducts a business at 43-45 South Broad, declares that his four-passenger Marathon car was stolen from him Tuesday by unknown parties while he was attending the ball game. The car tag was No. 2624 Georgia.

FRIENDS OF CARRANZA ARE REMOVED BY VILLA

El Paso, Texas, May 5.—General Manuel Chao has been removed as constitutionalist governor of Chihuahua by General Francisco Villa. News of the change in executives reached the border tonight. The removal, it was said, was the result of an intrigue against Villa by Chao in an effort to have the conqueror of Torreon replaced as general in chief of the army.

Trinidad Rodriguez has been named governor, and General Chao has been ordered to report at the front beyond Torreon for active service in the field. Silvestro Terrazas, who has been secretary of state for Chihuahua and a close friend of Chao, also was removed and has been succeeded by Augustin Labanstadt, formerly inspector of police.

Chao and Terrazas, who is not connected with the rich federal family of that name, are regarded as being closely aligned with General Carranza while their successors are friends of Villa.

Constitutionalist representatives here deny that the removal of Chao indicated a strained relation between Carranza and Villa.

MORTUARY

Mrs. Fleming, Jacksonville.

Bainbridge, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. Georgia W. Fleming, who died in Jacksonville Thursday night was interred here Sunday afternoon. She was a native of Decatur county, and one of the best known of the ladies of a family notable in the history of Decatur county for generations. Her age was 75 years. She was the relict of the late W. O. Fleming, former judge of the Albany circuit of the superior court. Mrs. Fleming is survived by the following sons and daughters: J. M., W. B. and W. O. Fleming, of Bainbridge; E. W. Fleming, of Jacksonville; R. W. Fleming, of Fort Collins, Colo., and Miss Georgia Fleming and Mrs. Albert H. Russell of this city.

Samuel G. Mayes, Albany.

Albany, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—Samuel G. Mayes, 83 years old, died last night at the home of his son, G. Crawford Mayes, after a long illness due to the infirmities of age. He was once a well-known planter, living near Augusta, and later became prominent in Augusta business circles. He served throughout the civil war as a captain in the Confederate service and participated in a number of battles. He leaves, besides his wife, the following children: G. C. Mayes and H. G. Mayes, of Albany; Rhydon G. Mayes, of Thomasville; Mrs. George O. Holmes, of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Marion Twiggs, of Macon. The funeral occurred here this afternoon.

Miss J. M. Lambreth, Arabi.

Cordele, Ga., May 5.—(Special.)—The remains of Miss Johnnie Mae Lambreth, who died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Campbell, in Atlanta, last Friday, were interred Saturday morning near Arabi, Rev. T. E. Murray, pastor of the Methodist church there, preaching the funeral services. Miss Lambreth was a sister of Mrs. Campbell.

Margaret Healy.

Margaret Healy, 17-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Healy, died Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock at the family residence, 4 Clarke street. The body is at Poole's chapel and the funeral will be held there this morning at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in West View.

Sam Gaylord.

Sam Gaylord, aged 50 years, died suddenly Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock at 28 Houston street. He resided in Richmond, Va. The body is at Poole's chapel awaiting the arrival of relatives.

DALLAS MAN KILLED BY SOUTHERN TRAIN

W. S. Kincaid Rushed to Atlanta But Dies on Operating Table.

W. S. Kincaid, a prominent citizen of Dallas, Ga., was struck and killed last night at 7 o'clock by a Southern train near Dallas. He was rushed to Atlanta on Southern train No. 16, and he died at 11:30 o'clock on the operating table at a private sanitarium.

He was a Mason. Surviving him are three sons, four sisters and four brothers. He was 64 years old. The body is at Patterson's chapel, and will be taken this morning to Dallas for funeral and interment.

Kryptok Bifocals

Why we make Kryptok Bifocals and recommend them. First of all, because of their convenience. They give Near and Far Vision in one solid glass, doing away with two pairs of glasses. They can be more perfectly ground than any other bifocal known, no ugly seams or pieces to blister or come loose. We make them in Toric or Curved form, giving a larger field both for reading and distance. Each pair is made to order, conforming to the face in every detail. Your best friend would never know you have on bifocals. They are absolutely invisible while on the face. They are a joy, not a discomfort. Ask some of our patients how they are pleased.

RAIL CONSPIRACY, SAYS LA FOLLETTE

Senator Says There's Plot to Force Commerce Commission to Grant Rate Advance. Attack on Newspapers.

Washington, May 5.—Senator La Follette, laid before the senate today what he declared today was evidence of a widespread conspiracy to intimidate, coerce and control the interstate commerce commission, to grant eastern railroads the 5 per cent freight rate increase for which application is pending.

The senator spoke on his bill to make it a criminal offense to seek to influence decisions of the commission. He talked for more than two hours and produced a mass of newspaper clippings, copies of letters and telegrams which found their way to the commission in which the authors urged favorable action on the railroad plea.

Assailed the Commission.

He declared "the conspiracy" had made use of newspaper articles, editorials and advertising; that owners had assailed the commission by communications demanding the increase and that propaganda had been in force for months before the railroad began their presentation of the case.

The commission must find its decision on the evidence and testimony taken by it and not on the evidence from such a campaign, he said.

In the course of his speech the senator declared that in Washington newspapers President Wilson frequently had been made to appear in favor of the rate increase. He said he could not believe that the president sought to influence the commission, but expressed surprise that these published reports of his attitude never had been denied.

When Senator Stone later pointed out that there had been denials from the president, Senator La Follette said that he was glad to hear of it and hoped that the denial would appear in The Congressional Record.

Throughout the speech the senator was uninterrupted and the senate chamber was more nearly filled than it had been on any day since the talk of war with Mexico abated.

Warned His Colleagues.

The senator warned his colleagues that there is a growing suspicion throughout the country that the courts are more inclined to look kindly on property interests than on the rights of the individual. He said congress could not excuse itself for constituting a tribunal like the commission, turning over to it cases of vast importance and leaving it "exposed to every conceivable form of attack."

More than two thousand communications have been received by the commission, Senator La Follette asserted, including seven hundred petitions, resolutions and letters specifically urging the increase. He said that as a result of one advertisement in a trade journal in the west he had received about 150 letters urging the increase. He told Row Chairman Harlan, of the commission, was called from his bed at midnight recently to receive such a communication.

"There is no mistaking what has been done," said the senator. "The wayfaring man, though a fool, knows that there has been an organized conspiracy to coerce the commission to compliance with the demands of the railroads that fifty million dollars be taken from the public, handed over to them and no questions asked."

Burden of $100,000,000

In urging the passage of his bill to make it unlawful for any person to attempt to influence the commission in reaching any decision, Senator La Follette declared that the proposed 5 per cent increase as asked by the railroads would "lay on the consumers of this country an aggregate burden of $100,000,000."

Senator La Follette declared that "an attempt has been made to subject the commission to every form of influence and pressure which human ingenuity could devise in order to force from it a decision favorable to the railroads."

He further asserted that a Pennsylvania railroad publicity bureau at Philadelphia issued scores of "anonymous bulletins and circulars presenting ex parte statements of the railroads and their officials" and said that the newspapers were filled with "pro-railroad material."

Through this means newspapers were filled with "pro-railroad material." He said thousands of letters had been addressed to the commission, members of congress, cabinet officials and the president urging the rate increase.

"Many of the letters from the general public show that they have been deceived by this publicity campaign," he said.

Attitude of President.

Washington papers friendly to the administration, Senator La Follette said, for months have published that the president is known to favor the rate increase.

"It is unbelievable," he declared, "that President Wilson ever could have entertained such a monstrous thought. He or any man of integrity of character would just as soon have attempted from his place to influence the supreme court.

"But since the press has persisted in these gross misrepresentations one is constrained to feel that he should have let it be known that he resented the imputation. He has again and again corrected misrepresentations as to his action in matters of incomparably less significance."

Farm and Fireside says:

"To fight a cross bull go for his eyes. I saw one put to flight in a very short time when a man near 80 years old was nearly overcome by a 2-year-old Jersey bull. A man sweeping in a barn near by saw the situation and came with his broom. The old man moved out of his way and he jabbed the broom in the face of the bull two or three times. The fight was then over. The bull ran away. My opinion is that anything to injure his sight would have had the same effect—sand, dust or anything similar."

AT THE THEATERS

(At the Lyric.)

The role of a butler or a footman in a modern play means usually that the player thereof stalks in with a tea tray, puts it on the table and walks out again. But Forbes Aylmar, who plays the butler in "The Heir to the Hoorah" at the Lyric this week awoke next morning to find himself drawing more lines in the press notices than the leading people. He took the small role of the imported butler and made it a character part which stood out in bold relief.

The Lucille LaVerne seems to have found its most popular offering in the Paul Armstrong play chosen for this week's bill.

Junior Vaudeville.

(At the Grand.)

The tabloid musical comedy that has made good with the Grand's many patrons will be seen for the last time today. Tomorrow Junior Keith vaudeville will be resumed. Valtose and May will open the show with a comedy aerial act, said to be a novelty; Hunter and Davenport will follow with comedy, singing, talking and dancing; Smith and Ryan will be the next to appear, theirs is a full stage comedy act; Russell and Church, two women, will offer their travesty singing, talking and dancing number that should make them big winners here; the Heuman trio of cyclists will close the vaudeville part of the program. A four-reel feature film, "The Dread of Doom," will complete the entertainment.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Every act on the bill at the Forsyth this week is a complete entertainment worth the time and the money it costs the individual for a seat. A better combination of talent and variety has never been assembled here. Gladys Clark and Harry Bergman, head of the miniature musical comedy presented by Jesse L. Laskey and called "The Trained Nurses." Milt Collins, the monologuist, is scoring the biggest hit that has ever been credited to a story-teller on a local stage. For Shriners' week Nat Wills, who was here recently with "The Follies;" Lulu McConnell and Grant Simpson in a corking comedy sketch; Ball and West in a novelty and other features will give local folks something to be proud to show their visiting friends.

REDS-PIRATES GAME HAS BEEN PROTESTED

Cincinnati, May 5.—Formal protest of the game between the Cincinnati and Pittsburg teams here Sunday has been mailed to President John K. Tener, of the National league, by Manager Herzog, of the Cincinnati team. Herzog alleges that in the eleventh inning of the game, as a third strike was being delivered to Miller, Cincinnati batsman, a ball that had previously been knocked out of the lot was thrown back onto the field and hit Miller on the leg. He stepped back, Herzog claimed, just as the pitched ball went over the plate, and was called out on strikes. Herzog further claims the pitched ball should not have been counted, and that Miller should have been given another chance at bat.
